Dem Congress Challenges Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield called on the Senate today to take whatever steps are necessary to end the Vietnam war as mounting foreign and domestic challenges to President Nixon's policies marked the start of the 93rd Congress.

In the wake of Tuesday's House Democratic vote in favor of an immediate cutoff of funds for the war, Mansfield told Democratic senators that Congress has "no choice" but to seek total U.S. disengagement because of the executive branch's failure to do so.

He also declared that the November election gave the Senate a mandate "to exercise our separate and distinct constitutional role in the operation of the federal government.

"The people have not chosen to be governed by one branch of government alone," Mansfield told the closed party caucus. "They have not asked for government by a single party. Rather, they have called for reinforcement of the Constitution's checks and balances."

Both Senate Democrats and Republicans met to re-elect their leaders and settle other party issues before the noon scheduled opening of a Congress controlled, as have been the last 10, by the Democrats.

Neither Mansfield nor Senate GOP

Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania had any announced opposition.

Similarly, House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford was expected to be chosen again by acclamation at his party's caucus.

House Democrats met Tuesday and voted 154 to 75 to support legislation to cut off war funds at once, subject only to provisions for the return of U.S. prisoners and safe conduct for withdrawing American forces.

Meanwhile, top Senate Democrats joined in a court effort to force the Nixon administration to spend highway money that Congress voted.

The Senate and House planned largely ceremonial opening sessions today with leaders of both houses vowing to reassert the role of Congress in the next two years.

"We have our mandate too," House Speaker Carl Albert told fellow Democrats after they voted 202 to 25 to designate him as their candidate for a second two-year term as speaker.

Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. of Massachusetts, a white-haired political veteran and war opponent, was elected by acclamation as the new Democratic leader, succeeding Hale Boggs of Louisiana. Boggs has been missing since a plane carrying him and Rep. Nick Begich of Alaska disappeared Oct. 17.

O'Neill's successor as whip will be appointed Jan. 10.

Seventeen senior Senate Democrats—the party's leaders and 15 committee chairmen—joined Tuesday in a federal court case that seeks to force the Nixon administration to spend highway funds voted by Congress.

The move was described by sponsors as the first step in a major effort to challenge the administration's refusal to spend certain domestic appropriations.

Democrats emerging from Tuesday's day-long caucus told reporters they were impressed by the determination expressed by Albert and O'Neill to provide the leadership needed to help Congress regain lost power and challenge administration efforts to dismantle domestic programs passed by past Democratic administrations.

Mansfield took an approach similar to Albert's, declaring in an interview that "we intend to go at least half-way to be considerate and helpful."

"After all," he added, "the Congress is a co-equal branch of government."

The new Senate has 57 Democrats and 43 Republicans, a net Democratic gain of two. The election gave the House 243 Democrats, including Boggs, Begich, the late Rep. George Collins of Illinois, and Rep. John Moakley of Massachusetts, who was elected as an independent. There are 192 Republicans, 13 more than in the 92nd Congress.

Fringe Benefits Boost Solons' Income

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fringe benefits for congressmen and senators are worth a minimum of $8,500 and push their total annual compensation to at least $51,000, an Associated Press survey shows.

The tabulation of fringe benefits for members of Congress, who start a new session today, includes such items as pension contributions and conservative estimates of special tax breaks and liberal travel allowances.

But it does not include some other benefits congressmen receive, such as unlimited leave and free surgery by military doctors, which are difficult or impossible to price.

The $42,500 in base pay and minimum of $8,500 in fringe benefits amount to a total higher than the income of 99.5 per cent of all American taxpayers.

Here is a partial list of the personal benefits now received by members of the House and Senate and the value of these benefits.

Pension: Members of Congress aren't eligible for Social Security, but they may join a generous pension program. Nearly all do. It allows them to retire after as few as five years of service at 12.5 per cent of full salary, or at up to 80 per cent of full salary after 32 years' service. Members contribute eight per cent of their yearly salary, and the government matches this amount. Value: $3,400 per year.

Life insurance: Nearly all members participate in a group life insurance program that provides $45,000 term life insurance. Members pay $26.80 per month, and the government matches one-third of that. Value: $107 per year.

Additional insurance: Congress always awards to survivors of deceased members one full year's salary. This ironclad custom is, in effect, free additional life insurance worth $42,500. The AP tabulation estimated the probable yearly premium for this insurance by prorating the cost of the other group life coverage. The real cost probably would be much higher because of the advanced age of many congressmen. Estimated value:

at least $405 per year.

Health insurance: Congressmen are eligible for the same group health insurance coverage available to federal government employees. The government pays up to 40 per cent of premium costs. Premiums vary, so The AP calculated the average government contribution for each congressman. Average value: $264 per year.

Free medical care: Congressmen and their families may receive free medical attention by a full-time staff of physicians and nurses at the Capitol. Services include free check-ups, free treatment, free medicine, free ambulance service and even free, wallet-size electrocardiograms for each member.

Latest six-month figures show the government spending at a yearly rate of $119,757 for these services to 535 senators and representatives. Value: more than $224 a year.

Tax break: Because congressmen must maintain a year-round residence in Washington and a legal residence in their home district or state, they are allowed to deduct up to $3,000 from their taxable income each year for living expenses in Washington.

For a married congressman in the relatively low 39-per-cent tax bracket, this would mean $1,170 a year in tax savings. But the deduction is worth even more because he would have to earn $1,918 in taxable income to produce the same amount of money after taxes. If a congressman is single or in a higher bracket, the deduction is worth even more. Estimated value: at least $1,918.

Travel: Representatives are paid for up to 19 round trips home per year. Senators get up to 45. Committees also send some of their members on other trips, sometimes including globe-trotting junkets of questionable value to taxpayers.

Estimating the personal value of such travel to congressmen is particularly difficult, since they travel different distances and mix their business, politics and pleasure in different ratios. The AP assigned an arbitrary but nominal value to these liberal travel allowances. Estimated value: $1,000.

Parking: Senators get two free parking spaces near their Capitol office. Representatives get one. Commercial parking in downtown Washington costs $40 to $50 per month. Value: $540 a year—$1,080 for senators.

Gymnasium: Congressmen have free and exclusive use of extensive gymnasium facilities, including steam rooms, swimming pools and sauna. Estimated value: $153.

Miscellaneous: Congressmen enjoy many other minor, personal services and gratuities from the government. The National Botanical Gardens will supply up to three live plants a month, free. Up to 50 pictures a month may be framed by Capitol carpenters, free.

Representatives may receive one free footlocker a year "for official use." Special free license tags allow congressmen the priceless privilege of parking in any no-parking zone in Washington, except hydrant and loading zones. The privacy of secluded dining rooms and members-only barber shops come with the price of the meals and haircuts. The AP assigned an arbitrary but nominal value to these miscellaneous benefits. Estimated value: $500 a year.

Adding all these produced a total value of fringe benefits of at least $8,511 yearly.

But this figure doesn't tell the whole story. Congressmen receive cash allowances for stationery, non-Washington expenses and non-Washington telephone calls that add up to at least $7,250 a year, more for senators.

No accounting is required of these funds, and congressmen who desire may pocket any amount not actually spent, no questions asked. Busy congressmen may well spend even more than their allowances for these official items, however.

NEW APV PLATES — Frances Fry of Pickaway County's Deputy Registrar office holds special license plate and decal required on all snowmobiles, all-terrain vehicles, trail-bikes and mini-bikes operated on public lands under new licensing regulations which went into effect Jan. 1. The plates can be purchased at the Registrar's office, Courthouse basement, for $5. Persons not displaying tags or decals on their off the road vehicles are subject to criminal prosecution.

Snow, Sleet, Icy Rain Hammer Plains, Rockies

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow, sleet and freezing rain walloped parts of the southern and central Plains today and bitterly cold arctic air settled into the northern Rockies and adjacent Plains.

Snow extended from southeast New Mexico into Kansas and Nebraska, making driving hazardous. A school bus at Dora, N.M., and a chartered bus west of Lordsburg, N.M., overturned Tuesday on snow-slick roads. No serious injuries were reported.

The chartered bus overturned on Interstate 10 near the Arizona-New Mexico line, and the sheriff's office at Lordsburg said three persons were taken to a hospital, but their injuries were not believed serious.

Bone-chilling winds of 40 to 50 miles per hour resulted in the failure Tuesday of a mountain-climbing expedition to reach the summit of northwestern Wyoming's 13,770-foot Grand Teton Peak. It was the eighth mid-winter attempt to conquer the mountain. Only two have succeeded.

A narrow band of freezing rain and sleet extended from Oklahoma to western Missouri. Rain damped areas from Texas to the Gulf Coast states and a flash-flood watch was posted in Louisiana as gale-force winds whirled along the northeast Texas coast.

Travelers advisories were in effect for snow and blowing or drifting snow in Montana, Idaho and northern Nevada.

Ohioans In Capital To Protest Viet War

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The Dayton Regional Office of the American Friends Service Committee says more than 175 Ohioans will be in Washington Thursday for a religious peace convocation and antiwar lobbying effort.

The convocation was called by the AFSC and Clergy and Laity Concerned to call upon the government to stop the bombing and end the Vietnam war immediately and to petition Congress to cut off war funds.

Weather

Increasing cloudiness and cooler today with a 50 per cent chance of rain, high near 40. Cloudy and cool tonight, low near 35, with a 70 per cent chance of rain. Cloudy and warm tomorrow, high near 50, with a 60 per cent chance of rain. High Tuesday, 37; low, 21.

First 1973 Council Meeting Is Busy One For City Fathers

The first legislative session of Circleville City Council in 1973 was a busy one Tuesday.

The agenda included the annual budget, pay increases for city employees, an increase in sewer rates, a cable television ordinance and resolutions and ordinances to advertise for bids for a new cruiser and for gasoline for the Police Department.

The annual budget had been held over from the December sessions of council and was approved at its third reading by a 5-2 vote. Councilmen Robert Kenworthy and Harold Hoffman voted against the budget after an amendment introduced by Kenworthy was voted down by council.

Kenworthy sought to have the amount of $687 transferred from the salary account of city service director Atwood Jones to the janitorial account for the city building.

The second ward councilman contended there was not enough money in the janitorial account to pay a person at the rate of $2 per hour, the salary he has been told a fulltime janitor will receive.

The city presently has a parttime employee performing the custodial duties at the city building. Kenworthy's only support came from Harold Hoffman, who seconded the amendment and voted for it.

With the passage of the appropriation ordinance, council was then able to approve pay increases for all city employees except for service director Jones. Kenworthy moved the ordinance increasing Jones' salary from $12,495 to $13,182 be held to a first reading and his motion was seconded by Hoffman.

Councilman David Crawford, chairman of the service committee, and Mayor Frank Barnhill both spoke out in favor of a salary increase for the service director.

In almost every instance, salary increases were for a flat increase of five and one-half percent. The exception to this rate of increase was in the lower pay steps for firemen and patrolmen which were for a lesser amount.

A cable television ordinance containing a number of amendments was approved by council. And immediately after the ordinance was approved, a resolution permitting the Multi Channel Cable Co. of Portsmouth to sell its franchise to Fulton Cablevision Co. of Zanesville was approved.

Bill Randle, president of Fulton Cablevision was present at council meeting. After the meeting, he stated that his company expects to begin construction of lines within six months pending approval of the franchise by the FCC and acquirement of pole rights from the telephone and the electric companies.

The ordinance to increase the sewer rental rates is necessary to pay the cost of construction of the city's new sewerage disposal plant according to Charles Taylor, director of public utilities. The rates were established by the engineering firm which has designed the new plant.

The new treatment facilities must be in operation by September, 1974. Construction is expected to begin this spring. The new rate calls for a minimum quarterly bill of $4.50 or a minimum monthly bill of $1.50. Taylor said he is investigating the possibility of billing monthly because of the increased rates. He will have a report by the next council meeting, he said.

Rates are based on water consumption. On a quarterly basis, users will be charged 85 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 1,500 cubic feet, 65 cents for the next 28,500, 45 cents for the next 45,000 and 30 cents for all over 75,000 cubic feet. The monthly rate is the same except it is based on one-third as much cubic footage.

A tap fee of $75 will be charged for making the physical connection and performing the inspection or $25 for making the inspection where the connection is already installed. A

ROUND TOWN

MAYOR Frank Barnhill announced Tuesday at the regular meeting of Circleville City Council the department of public service will be collecting and disposing of Christmas trees this year. Crews will be collecting the trees throughout the city Thursday and Friday.

Residents are asked to place the trees at the curb with all bases and nails removed. The trees will be taken to collection points and run through a tree shredder. The residue will be used as mulch in the city parks and the excess hauled to the sanitary land fill. If trees have not been picked up by noon Friday, residents are asked to call the service department for pickup Friday afternoon.

THE final connection to city water has been made by the contractor installing water lines in the Isaac and Moats Additions and along the Kingston Pike. Sanitizing of lines and pressure testing will be conducted this week and the water will be "turned on" early next week, according to Charles Taylor, director of public utilities. Many residents of the area sought admission to the city in order to get the water service because wells in the area are so badly polluted.

THE complete budget for Circleville, with comparison figures to last year's appropriations, appears on page 5 of today's edition of The Herald.

penalty of 10 per cent will be added to the total charges on each bill if the bill is not paid on or before the 10th day of the month in which it becomes due.

Residents outside the city shall pay the city sewer rates plus 60 per cent. Other users shall pay the city rate plus 20 per cent.

The ordinance authorizing safety director Ed Ebert to advertise for bids for gasoline was passed after a first reading. It was pointed out the legislation is necessary to permit operation of the police cruisers. The ordinance to advertise for bids for a new cruiser was held for a second reading.

Councilmen present at Tuesday's meeting were David Goldschmidt, Kenworthy, Hoffman, Crawford, Keith Wagner, Ben Gordon and Gladden Troutman. President Joseph Bell presided over the meeting. Clerk Robert Shadley, Mayor Frank Barnhill, the city attorneys William Duckworth and William Stevens were also present.

Jewel Thieves Being Sought In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Robbers reportedly forced a Columbus jeweler to turn over several thousand dollars worth of jewelry to them Tuesday night, while holding his wife hostage at home.

But the quick thinking of an employee of the jewelry store, who hid most of the stock before the ransom was paid, may have kept the figure from being much higher.

Upper Arlington police said the episode began when one man forced his way into the L. H. Chapman home and seized Mrs. Chapman. He was joined by a second man a few minutes later.

Chapman said when he arrived home the men ordered him to call an employee to get the jewelry ready, then one man forced him to drive downtown to pick up the jewels, while the other man stayed with Mrs. Chapman.

The other man reportedly locked Mrs. Chapman in a closet shortly after her husband left.

The store's employee, Elroy Gallant, hid most of the firm's stock in a wastebasket, then put some jewelry into boxes to pay the ransom.

After picking up the boxes, Chapman said the robber forced him to drive to south Columbus. Chapman said he bolted from the car while stopped at a light and flagged down a truck.

Neither Chapman nor his wife was hurt. Police later found the car at a shopping center.

Chapman's firm supplies several Columbus jewelry stores.

The ordinance authorizing safety director Ed Ebert to advertise for bids for gasoline was passed after a first reading. It was pointed out the legislation is necessary to permit operation of the police cruisers. The ordinance to advertise for bids for a new cruiser was held for a second reading.

Councilmen present at Tuesday's meeting were David Goldschmidt, Kenworthy, Hoffman, Crawford, Keith Wagner, Ben Gordon and Gladden Troutman. President Joseph Bell presided over the meeting. Clerk Robert Shadley, Mayor Frank Barnhill, the city attorneys William Duckworth and William Stevens were also present.

Jewel Thieves Being Sought In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Robbers reportedly forced a Columbus jeweler to turn over several thousand dollars worth of jewelry to them Tuesday night, while holding his wife hostage at home.

But the quick thinking of an employee of the jewelry store, who hid most of the stock before the ransom was paid, may have kept the figure from being much higher.

Upper Arlington police said the episode began when one man forced his way into the L. H. Chapman home and seized Mrs. Chapman. He was joined by a second man a few minutes later.

Chapman said when he arrived home the men ordered him to call an employee to get the jewelry ready, then one man forced him to drive downtown to pick up the jewels, while the other man stayed with Mrs. Chapman.

The other man reportedly locked Mrs. Chapman in a closet shortly after her husband left.

The store's employee, Elroy Gallant, hid most of the firm's stock in a wastebasket, then put some jewelry into boxes to pay the ransom.

After picking up the boxes, Chapman said the robber forced him to drive to south Columbus. Chapman said he bolted from the car while stopped at a light and flagged down a truck.

Neither Chapman nor his wife was hurt. Police later found the car at a shopping center.

Chapman's firm supplies several Columbus jewelry stores.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices surged higher again today on the heels of positive business news and fresh hopes for peace in Vietnam.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 10.46 to 1042.14, overtaking the record closing high of 1036.27 set Dec. 11.

Advancing issues on the New York Stock Exchange piled up almost a 2-to-1 lead over declines in fairly active trading.

Monte Gordon of Dreyfus Corp. pointed to a close correlation between market activity and Vietnam developments in predicting "a continuation in forward momentum." Recent developments also tend to make the market "more responsive to the bullish prospects of the economy," he said.

The broad-based NYSE index of some 1,400 common stocks was up .30 to 65.36 at noon, and the price-change index on the American Stock Exchange was up .07 to 26.64.

Saigon Papers Offer Dating Game

SAIGON (AP) — The 24,000 U.S. troops left in Vietnam need only consult the Saigon Post's classified ads to banish the lonesome blues.

"Will you be lonely at dinner tonight?" asks Mr. Huy Son, telephone

97891. "Why not invite a lovely girl for your dinner table?"

Miss Alice, phone 96275, serves as lonely hearts consultant for "Vietnamese girls, charming and educated," who seek "foreign friends for partners of picnic and pleasure party."

Each day, Saigon's only English-language daily carries a half-dozen notices in pidgin English cooing the unmistakable language of love.

Cardinal, Psychiatrist, FBI Agent Foil Skyjack Attempt

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Roman Catholic cardinal, a veteran FBI agent and a psychiatrist talked an armed man into giving himself up after he commanded an airliner in the year's first hijack attempt. No one was hurt, and the plane didn't get off the ground.

The suspect, identified as Charles A. Wenige, 37, of Baltimore, passively surrendered Tuesday night some three hours after he took two stewardesses hostage aboard a Piedmont Airlines plane and demanded to be flown to Toronto, Canada, authorities said.

Some two hours after the tense ordeal began, the gunman freed the stewardesses following on-board negotiations with FBI Agent Thomas

H. Farrow and radio conversations with Lawrence Cardinal Shehan and Dr. John Lyon.

The agent reported that the gunman told him he greatly admired the cardinal. Dr. Lyon was familiar with Wenige, authorities said.

Farrow said Wenige talked of unspecified "personal problems" and drank alcoholic beverages while aboard the twin-engine turbojet. Wenige told authorities he had been released Tuesday from a Fairfax, Va., hospital. He said he was an Army veteran and had been wounded in Korea, the agent reported.

Farrow said Wenige would be arraigned today on federal charges of attempting to hijack an airplane and interfering with a flight crew.

According to Farrow, the casually dressed Wenige boarded the Atlanta-to-Baltimore multistop flight at Washington's National Airport, flew to Baltimore' Friendship Airport and then hid in the washroom until all the passengers left the plane.

Brandishing a .45-caliber revolver, he took two stewardesses hostage and ordered the rest of the crew off the plane, the agent reported.

Farrow said Wenige several times put the gun to the head of a stewardess and demanded to go to Toronto and then to talk with Dr. Lyon and Cardinal Shehan, the 74-year-old archbishop of Baltimore.

Robert Redford On List Of World's Best-Dressed

NEW YORK (AP) — Actor Robert Redford is back on this year's International Best Dressed list for men and women.

"I didn't know ski parkas were in this year," said Redford, in a call from Utah.

"That's where all us fashion plates hang out, he said, adding that a hand cast was part of his wardrobe right now, as he'd recently had a skiing accident.

Redford joins 29 men and 29 women elected to the list by vote of some 2,000 fashion designers, fashion press and theatrical and social personalities throughout the world. The winners were announced today by publicist Eleanor Lambert.

Those on the list of 12 best-dressed men with Redford are Mick Jagger, rock star; Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York; Richard Roundtree, film star in "Shaft"; and Robert Evans, movie executive.

Others include Gianni Bulgari, Italian jeweler; Billy Baldwin, New York interior decorator; John Gagliher, international socialite; David Susskind, television personality; Fred Hughes, with Andy Warhol Enterprises; Armando Orsini, New York restaurateur; and David Mahoney, chairman of North Simon.

On the list of 12 best-dressed women are Miss Marisa Berenson, actress; Baroness Thierry van Zuylen, Paris socialite; Mrs. Samuel P. Reed Jr., daughter of Mrs. Charles Englehard Jr.; H.R.H. Princess Salima Khan, wife of the Aga Khan; and Mrs. Henry Ford II of Detroit.

Others include Mrs. Reinaldo Herrera Jr. of Caracas, Venezuela; Mrs. Ronald Reagan, wife of the governor of California; Mrs. Frederick Melhado, New York; Signora Gianluigi Oabetti, Milan, Italy; Mrs. Mick Jagger, wife of the rock star; Mrs. William Buckley Jr., wife of the author, columnist and television commentator; and Mrs. William Clay Ford of Grosse Points, Mich.

A-C School Board Okays Elementary Program

Amanda-Clearcreek Board of Education met to reorganize for 1973 and layed plans for a Paraprofessional Aide program on the elementary level.

Meeting New Years Day, the school board elected Jack W. Fausnaugh as its president for the coming year and voted Enos D. Fausnaugh vice president. Other members of the board are former president Ronald Bates, Mrs. Jean Muck and Elwood Kim.

The board authorized the aide program for grades one and two with financing under a state grant. Plans are to employ 10 persons to serve as aides in the program.

Applications are being accepted to the Amanda-Clearcreek Elementary school offices. To apply, a person must hold a high school diploma, be available for work from 8 to 11:30 a.m. on school days beginning Jan. 15.

Personal interviews will be scheduled for applicants.

During its reorganization, the Amanda-Clearcreek board re-employed Ann Cole as clerk-treasurer for a four year period and set dates for the regular meetings as the second Monday of each month.

Regular meetings will be held at 8 p.m. in the Amanda building with the exception of February and October, when sessions will be held at Stoutsville.

The Clearcreek Valley Bank was designated as the official depository for school funds. An interim appropriation for 1973 was adopted in the amount of $1,081,363 in the general fund.

Paris Talk Preparations Being Made

PARIS (AP) — Preparations were under way today for resumption of both sets of Vietnam peace talks in Paris.

North Vietnam's chief peace negotiator, Le Duc Tho, left Hanoi for Paris and more sessions next week with Henry A. Kissinger.

U.S. sources said the North Vietnamese also agreed to the American proposal for a meeting Thursday of the weekly four-party, semipublic talks. The North Vietnamese walked out of the meeting Dec. 21 in protest against the bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong.

Tho was expected to stop en route in Peking and Moscow, as he usually does. He and President Nixon's national security adviser meet on Monday.

Their negotiations have been recessed since Dec. 13, but they scheduled further meetings after the United States called off its aerial blitz of the Hanoi-Haiphong area.

Washington said in announcing on Jan. 30 the bombing halt above the 20th parallel that it had indications the North Vietnamese were prepared to resume negotiations in what the Americans considered a serious manner.

Ground the next round of the Kissinger-Tho peace talks got under way Tuesday with technical experts from both sides meeting for four hours at villa in Choisy le Roi, a Paris suburb. The North Vietnamese had refused to meet with the Americans even at the technical level while the saturation bombing was going on.

"Lovely and graceful girls, ladies of different age, type and class are waiting for your gentlemen," promises Mr. Mike. A former clerk at the U.S. Embassy in Saigon, he now operates a dating game, Vietnamese type, from a roster of more than 1,000 war widows, divorcees, ladies jilted and left in the lurch, even high-school girls anxious to meet and, if possible, marry any of the remaining Americans.

For 5,000 piastres — $11.50 — Mr. Mike's social-relations office will arrange introductions to five or six ladies selected by the customer from pictures and biographical data in his bulging files.

The office consists of a desk, a telephone and a sort of modified psychiatrist's couch. Regretful that he can't afford a computer but, nevertheless, seeking to match mates scientifically, Mr. Mike requires both parties to fill out a form detailing their "desires, weakness and social positions." Each party signs with the fervent affirmation "that the above said statement in this personal data is exactly accured (sic) due to my deep intention and frankness."

In a matter of days, his firm promises, "a direct or indirect meeting will be done to you at an appropriate appointed place and date at a refined serious place and scenery."

Like where? "The zoo," he ventured when this lonely researcher took his place on the psychiatric-style couch. "But if the girl is not suitable to you, we will send another in 24 hours. Up to five or six, then you pay another fee."

Vietnamese clients pay no fee. Mr. Mike said most once worked for the Americans or were the "overseas wives and mistresses" of Americans and desired to keep up their "English-language and cultural attachments."

Many of them, he admitted, are hell-bent on matrimony now that the pickings are lean compared with April 1969, when 543,000 American troops were here.

Still, Mr. Mike said, business is booming enough for him to be invited to five or six weddings a month resulting from his introductions and for him to codify his ranks of more than 1,000 girls into Vietnamese, Chinese and Metisse, or Eurasian of French-Vietnamese parentage.

'Religion' Said Behind Prison Strike

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — A nonsanctioned, prisonbased religion which an associate warden thinks is aimed at "making prisons nice places to be" is believed to be behind a work strike at San Quentin Prison.

Associate Warden James Park said inmates assumed to be leaders of the Church of the New Song, a branch of which was organized here about six months ago, are believed to have started a strike in which over half the prison's 1,800 inmates refused to go to work Tuesday.

"They have an egalitarian creed and a lot of verbiage which makes them appear to have the same kind of structure as a legitimate religion," Park said in an interview. "The whole thrust is to improve prison conditions, but I think it goes beyond that to making prisons a nice place to be."

"I don't think their motivation is purely spiritual," Park continued. "Their communion services specify using Harvey-Bristol Cream, Sherry and porterhouse steak."

Park said the work strike passed without incident. He called Tuesday "a quiet day," although striking prisoners verbally abused those who went to work.

He said officials have put extra guards on duty and are feeding prisoners in small groups.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices surged higher again today on the heels of positive business news and fresh hopes for peace in Vietnam.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 10.46 to 1042.14, overtaking the record closing high of 1036.27 set Dec. 11.

Advancing issues on the New York Stock Exchange piled up almost a 2-to-1 lead over declines in fairly active trading.

Monte Gordon of Dreyfus Corp. pointed to a close correlation between market activity and Vietnam developments in predicting "a continuation in forward momentum." Recent developments also tend to make the market "more responsive to the bullish prospects of the economy," he said.

The broad-based NYSE index of some 1,400 common stocks was up .30 to 65.36 at noon, and the price-change index on the American Stock Exchange was up .07 to 26.64.

Saigon Papers Offer Dating Game

SAIGON (AP) — The 24,000 U.S. troops left in Vietnam need only consult the Saigon Post's classified ads to banish the lonesome blues.

"Will you be lonely at dinner tonight?" asks Mr. Huy Son, telephone

97891. "Why not invite a lovely girl for your dinner table?"

Miss Alice, phone 96275, serves as lonely hearts consultant for "Vietnamese girls, charming and educated," who seek "foreign friends for partners of picnic and pleasure party."

Each day, Saigon's only English-language daily carries a half-dozen notices in pidgin English cooing the unmistakable language of love.

Cardinal, Psychiatrist, FBI Agent Foil Skyjack Attempt

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Roman Catholic cardinal, a veteran FBI agent and a psychiatrist talked an armed man into giving himself up after he commandeered an airliner in the year's first hijack attempt. No one was hurt, and the plane didn't get off the ground.

The suspect, identified as Charles A. Wenige, 37, of Baltimore, passively surrendered Tuesday night some three hours after he took two stewardesses hostage aboard a Piedmont Airlines plane and demanded to be flown to Toronto, Canada, authorities said.

Some two hours after the tense ordeal began, the gunman freed the stewardesses following on-board negotiations with FBI Agent Thomas

H. Farrow and radio conversations with Lawrence Cardinal Shehan and Dr. John Lyon.

The agent reported that the gunman told him he greatly admired the cardinal. Dr. Lyon was familiar with Wenige, authorities said.

Farrow said Wenige talked of unspecified "personal problems" and drank alcoholic beverages while aboard the twine-engine turbojet. Wenige told authorities he had been released Tuesday from a Fairfax, Va., hospital. He said he was an Army veteran and had been wounded in Korea, the agent reported.

Farrow said Wenige would be arraigned today on federal charges of attempting to hijack an airplane and interfering with a flight crew.

According to Farrow, the casually dressed Wenige boarded the Atlanta-Baltimore multistop flight at Washington's National Airport, flew to Baltimore' Friendship Airport and then hid in the washroom until all the passengers left the plane.

Brandishing a .45-caliber revolver, he took two stewardesses hostage and ordered the rest of the crew off the plane, the agent reported.

Farrow said Wenige several times put the gun to the head of a stewardess and demanded to go to Toronto and then to talk with Dr. Lyon and Cardinal Shehan, the 74-year-old archbishop of Baltimore.

Robert Redford On List Of World's Best-Dressed

NEW YORK (AP) — Actor Robert Redford is back on this year's International Best Dressed list for men and women.

"I didn't know ski parkas were in this year," said Redford, in a call from Utah.

"That's where all us fashion plates hang out, he said, adding that a hand cast was part of his wardrobe right now, as he'd recently had a skiing accident.

Redford joins 29 men and 29 women elected to the list by vote of some 2,000 fashion designers, fashion press and theatrical and social personalities throughout the world. The winners were announced today by publicist Eleanor Lambert.

Those on the list of 12 best-dressed men with Redford are Mick Jagger, rock star; Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York; Richard Roundtree, film star in "Shaft"; and Robert Evans, movie executive.

Others include Gianni Bulgari, Italian jeweler; Billy Baldwin, New York interior decorator; John Gailher, international socialite; David Susskind, television personality; Fred Hughes, with Andy Warhol Enterprises; Armando Orsini, New York restaurateur; and David Mahoney, chairman of North Simon.

On the list of 12 best-dressed women are Miss Marisa Berenson, actress; Baroness Thierry van Zuylen, Paris socialite; Mrs. Samuel P. Reed Jr., daughter of Mrs. Charles Englehard Jr.; H.R.H. Princess Salima Khan, wife of the Aga Khan; and Mrs. Henry Ford II of Detroit.

Others include Mrs. Reinaldo Herrera Jr. of Caracas, Venezuela; Mrs. Ronald Reagan, wife of the governor of California; Mrs. Frederick Melhado, New York; Signora Gianluigi Oabetti, Milan, Italy; Mrs. Mick Jagger, wife of the rock star; Mrs. William Buckley Jr., wife of the author, columnist and television commentator; and Mrs. William Clay Ford of Grosse Points, Mich.

A-C School Board Okays Elementary Program

Amanda-Clearcreek Board of Education met to reorganize for 1973 and layed plans for a Paraprofessional Aide program on the elementary level.

Meeting New Years Day, the school board elected Jack W. Fausnaugh as its president for the coming year and voted Enos D. Fausnaugh vice president. Other members of the board are former president Ronald Bates, Mrs. Jean Muck and Elwood Kim.

The board authorized the aide program for grades one and two with financing under a state grant. Plans are to employ 10 persons to serve as aides in the program.

Applications are being accepted to the Amanda-Clearcreek Elementary school offices. To apply, a person must hold a high school diploma, be available for work from 8 to 11:30 a.m. on school days beginning Jan. 15.

Personal interviews will be scheduled for applicants.

During its reorganization, the Amanda-Clearcreek board re-employed Ann Cole as clerk-treasurer for a four year period and set dates for the regular meetings as the second Monday of each month.

Regular meetings will be held at 8 p.m. in the Amanda building with the exception of February and October, when sessions will be held at Stoutsville.

The Clearcreek Valley Bank was designated as the official depository for school funds. An interim appropriation for 1973 was adopted in the amount of $1,081,363 in the general fund.

Deaths

MRS. BARBARA A. SCHOOLEY Mrs. Barbara A. Schooley, 28, Route 1, Orient, Ohio, died Tuesday at Grant Hospital, Columbus.

Survivors include her husband, Kenneth Schooley; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pabst, Columbus; six sons, Christopher, Keith, Paul, Kenneth, Shawn and Troy, all of the home; one brother, James Pabst, Augusta, Ark.; grandmothers, Mr. Gertie George, Newport, Ark. and Mrs. Lydia Pabst, Circleville.

The funeral service will be 1 p.m. Friday at Schoedinger-Norris Chapel, Grove City with the Rev. Carl Wetherell officiating. Burial will be in Beckett Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral chapel 7-9 p.m. Wednesday and 2-4 and 7-9 p.m. Thursday.

They were among 22 received Tuesday as the House and Senate sought to wind up organizational business which started on New Year's Day with the swearing in of members. Also introduced was a bill to implement a still uncertain state lottery.

Both houses then adjourned—except for skeleton "housekeeping" sessions—until next Tuesday. Leaders said they hope committee assignments will be completed by then so hearings may begin on legislation.

Sen. Harry Meshel, D-33 Youngstown, and Sen. Stanley Aronoff, R-8 Cincinnati, submitted a bill in the upper chamber to lower the so-called "age of majority" in Ohio from 21 to 18.

It provides for 18-year-olds the same legal rights now afforded persons 21 or over with the exception of the right to buy alcoholic beverages or high-powered beer.

Meshel said the provisions on alcohol were left out after being blamed for the demise of a similar proposal in the previous legislature. "They could be put back in. We'll have to see what happens," Meshel said.

The Youngstown senator also is a sponsor of a proposal that would exempt Ohio members of the military services from the state income tax. Although servicemen now must pay the tax, current law provides they may take longer periods to pay and in some cases, wait until after their discharge.

House Speaker Pro Tem Vernal Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston, offered a constitutional resolution which, if approved by voters, would authorize a bonus up to $500 for veterans of the Vietnam War. Survivors of deceased veterans could receive up to $1,000 if death were service-connected.

The resolution provides that up to $300 million in bonds to pay for the bonus would be retired with new property tax assessments. However, Riffe contended it does not go against a Democratic administration pledge of no new taxes.

Paris Talk Preparations Being Made

PARIS (AP) — Preparations were under way today for resumption of both sets of Vietnam peace talks in Paris.

North Vietnam's chief peace negotiator, Le Duc Tho, left Hanoi for Paris and more sessions next week with Henry A. Kissinger.

U.S. sources said the North Vietnamese also agreed to the American proposal for a meeting Thursday of the weekly four-party, semipublic talks. The North Vietnamese walked out of the meeting Dec. 21 in protest against the bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong.

Tho was expected to stop en route in Peking and Moscow, as he usually does. He and President Nixon's national security adviser meet on Monday.

Their negotiations have been recessed since Dec. 13, but they scheduled further meetings after the United States called off its aerial blitz of the Hanoi-Haiphong area.

Washington said in announcing on Jan. 30 the bombing halt above the 20th parallel that it had indications the North Vietnamese were prepared to resume negotiations in what the Americans considered a serious manner.

Ground work for the next round of the Kissinger-Tho peace talks got under way Tuesday with technical experts from both sides meeting for four hours at villa in Choisy le Roi, a Paris suburb. The North Vietnamese had refused to meet with the Americans even at the technical level while the saturation bombing was going on.

"Lovely and graceful girls, ladies of different age, type and class are waiting for your gentlemen," promises Mr. Mike. A former clerk at the U.S. Embassy in Saigon, he now operates a dating game, Vietnamese type, from a roster of more than 1,000 war widows, divorcees, ladies jilted and left in the lurch, even high-school girls anxious to meet and, if possible, marry any of the remaining Americans.

For 5,000 piastres — $11.50 — Mr. Mike's social-relations office will arrange introductions to five or six ladies selected by the customer from pictures and biographical data in his bulging files.

The office consists of a desk, a telephone and a sort of modified psychiatrist's couch. Regretful that he can't afford a computer but, nevertheless, seeking to match mates scientifically, Mr. Mike requires both parties to fill out a form detailing their "desires, weakness and social positions." Each party signs with the fervent affirmation "that the above said statement in this personal date is exactly accured (sic) due to my deep intention and frankness."

In a matter of days, his firm promises, "a direct or indirect meeting will be done to you at an appropriate appointed place and date at a refined serious place and scenery."

Like where?

"The zoo," he ventured when this lonely researcher took his place on the psychiatric-style couch. "But if the girl is not suitable to you, we will send another in 24 hours. Up to five or six, then you pay another fee."

Vietnamese clients pay no fee. Mr. Mike said most once worked for the Americans or were the "overseas wives and mistresses" of Americans and desired to keep up their "English-language and cultural attachments."

Many of them, he admitted, are hell-bent on matrimony now that the pickings are lean compared with April 1969, when 543,000 American troops were here.

Still, Mr. Mike said, business is booming enough for him to be invited to five or six weddings a month resulting from his introductions and for him to codify his ranks of more than 1,000 girls into Vietnamese, Chinese and Metisse, or Eurasian of French-Vietnamese parentage.

'Religion' Said Behind Prison Strike

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — A nonsanctioned, prisonbased religion which an associate warden thinks is aimed at "making prisons nice places to be" is believed to be behind a work strike at San Quentin Prison.

Associate Warden James Park said inmates assumed to be leaders of the Church of the New Song, a branch of which was organized here about six months ago, are believed to have started a strike in which over half the prison's 1,800 inmates refused to go to work Tuesday.

"They have an egalitarian creed and a lot of verbiage which makes them appear to have the same kind of structure as a legitimate religion," Park said in an interview. "The whole thrust is to improve prison conditions, but I think it goes beyond that to making prisons a nice place to be."

"I don't think their motivation is purely spiritual," Park continued. "Their communion services specify using Harvey-Bristol Cream, Sherry and porterhouse steak."

Park said the work strike passed without incident. He called Tuesday "a quiet day," although striking prisoners verbally abused those who went to work.

He said officials have put extra guards on duty and are feeding prisoners in small groups.

Force Account

Okayed For County Engineer

Pickaway County Commissioners Dick T. Tootle, Wayne Hines and L. Robert Liston Monday approved a resolution authorizing the county engineer Henry T. McCrady to maintain and repair roads bridges and culverts by forced account.

The resolution, routine legislation approved annually by the commissioners, permits the engineer to make necessary emergency repairs without seeking bids when the work must be done promptly.

In other action Monday, permission was granted to the General Telephone Co. to bury cable along County Road 511 north from Marshall Addition to the Bell Station-Fairfield Road.

Tax Planning Is

Meeting Topic

"Estate Planning and Tax Planning" is the subject of the talk to be presented to the next meeting of the adult farmers group Monday at Logan Elm.

Any interested person is welcome to attend the 8 p.m. session and hear Bert Tidwell, a Columbus attorney who specializes in the tax and estate field.

The meetings are held in the vocational agriculture room at Logan Elm High.

Research, Not Magic

Everyone is in favor of removing cancer, heart disease and stroke from the list of killers. So, the goals of periodic government "wars on killer diseases" must be applauded.

But the trouble with mass programs of this sort, directed from a central point, is that they largely ignore established efforts already being made by countless thousands of physicians and researchers, many of them following highly individualized paths toward some part of the eventual solution.

They would replace these efforts with a highly concentrated attack in only a few promising directions, at most.

Successful research is not always conducted by the largest laboratory with the most money at its disposal. Penicillin, the Salk vaccine and many of the "wonder" drugs of World War II fame were largely the result of independent research activity.

A research project is little more than someone's idea being tested scientifically. The more ideas which can be tested, the more likely one of them will hit on a solution.

Instead of combining a large army of talent under one management and directing its attention to one goal, a more nearly ideal method of guaranteeing an early breakthrough would be to promote more scientific explorations in many fields by many persons.

Concentrating available talent and facilities in a narrow sphere may be a good way to manufacture a pencil. But it hardly promotes the individual initiative and scientific curiosity needed to break the stubborn resistance of cancer, heart disease and stroke.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1777, George Washington's forces won a major battle in the Revolutionary War, defeating the British at Princeton, N.J.

On this date:

In 1815, Austria, Britain and France formed a defensive alliance against Prussia and Russia.

In 1919, Herbert Hoover was named administrator of a relief program in Europe after World War II.

In 1935, 90 per cent of the people in the Saar voted for reunion with Germany.

In 1952, in World War II, the Japanese siege of Bataan in the Philippines began.

In 1959, Alaska became the 49th state.

In 1961, the United States broke off diplomatic relations

Ten years ago: A French military mission was in Spain to seek closer military cooperation between the two countries.

Five years ago: Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy D-Minn., entered the March 12 primary in New Hampshire in a bid for his party's nomination for president.

One year ago: The Pakistan government said it was willing to release from custody the Bengali leader, Sheikh Mujibur Rahman, but did not say when.

Today's birthdays: Actor Ray Milland is 66. Hockey star Bobby Hull is 34.

Thought for today: The ideal man bears the accidents of life with dignity and grace, making the best of the circumstances — Aristotle, Greek philosopher

"Is this the same husband who was missing three times last year?"

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My father and my grandfather both had prostate trouble. I'm 30 years old and wonder if it's possible to inherit this condition.

I am so much younger than they were when they had it.

Mr. J. J., Tex

Dear Mr. J.:

I am relatively sure that heredity plays no part in the enlargement of the prostate.

Since so many people past middle age develop some problem with the prostate, it is more likely a coincidence than an inherited disorder.

Although it is rather unusual for the prostate to be enlarged at your age, it is a very simple procedure to learn by medical examination if there is any enlargement or infection of the prostate gland.

The size of the prostate can be determined by the physician; he can easily feel it by rectal examination. In fact, this examination is part of every complete physical workup.

Many of the letters I receive from readers indicate a great deal of confusion about the prostate gland.

Contrary to general belief, the gland itself does not produce sperm. Rather, it produces a thickened fluid.

The sperm itself is produced in the testicles and is carried forth in the fluid produced by the prostate.

There are few conditions that cause more confusion and anxiety than disorders of the prostate.

Often, unfounded fear keeps people from bringing minor complaints to the attention of their doctors.

Frequency of urination and inability to completely empty the bladder should be discussed with the doctor. Often, with drugs and prostatic massage the problem can be eliminated.

Is there any reason why I should not safely travel by air during my first few months of pregnancy?

Mrs. E. D., Maine

Dear Mrs. D.:

Medical departments of most major airlines constantly seek to establish more and more rules for safety.

But it is virtually impossible to lay down general rules that will apply to every individual.

Only your own doctor, after complete evaluation of your medical condition, can make the best recommendations about flying.

This applies, too, for people with high blood pressure, heart disorders, sinus infections, ear trouble and lung conditions.

What is meant by "water treatment" for people with arthritis?

Dear Mrs. R.: Mrs. H. E. R., Del.

Hydrotherapy is an excellent form of treatment that uses swimming pools, hot sprays, and whirlpool-activated baths to bring more blood to the skin, the joints, and muscles of the body.

Some forms of arthritis are benefited by carefully prescribed use of such baths.

For centuries, spas all over the world have been using these treatments with distinct psychological and physical benefits.

Ecology and Airplanes

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

John Maddox, a leading British scientist, happens to be the editor of Nature magazine. Judging by the nature of his job, which compels him to consort with the modern brand of intellectual, one would expect him to be one of the ecological doomsayers. But in Mr. Maddox's case we have a rather optimistic and definitely refreshing "man bites dog" situation. He has written a book called "The Doomsday Syndrome" (McGraw-Hill, $6.95) which attacks most of his brother ecologists — Paul Ehrlich, author of "The Population Bomb," Barry Commoner, author of "The Closing Circle," et cetera — for erring drastically on the pessimistic side.

I am midway in Mr. Maddox's book, and hope to report on it in detail later on. Meanwhile it is interesting to test the Maddox thesis against a recent report from the American aviation industry, which has been under pressure from Federal and local governments to clean up both its exhaust emissions and its noise pollution.

The aviation industry, through its spokesman, Stuart Tipton, president of the Air Transport Association, doesn't make any fantastic claims, but what it does have to report is thoroughly in keeping with Maddox's basic optimism. Briefly, the big newer planes — the 747, the Lockheed 1011, and the DC-10 — have licked the black smoke problem. It cost the aviation industry $30 million over a five-year period to make a burner capable of taking the smoke out of plane emissions.

For the older four-engine jets the industry has not managed to come up with a satisfactory "retrofit" fix. But the older four-engine jets are being phased out, and eventually the black smoke from plane exhausts will disappear from the atmosphere. The problem of invisible emissions has not yet been mastered, but some progress has been made in eliminating such poisons in the engines used on the newer wide-bodied jets. In any case, invisible emissions from planes are insignificant when compared to what comes out of the average automobile exhaust.

The problem of noise happens to be considerably more refractory than the smoke problem. Again, progress has been made with the newer jet engines: the 747 and the wide-bodied tri-jets have been designed from scratch to be relatively quiet as well as clean. Moreover, a lot has been learned in recent years about utilizing the seaward approaches to landing fields on the coasts, which diminishes the impact of noises on people who live near airports in Los Angeles and on Long Island. Taking off and landing at higher "deck angles" also results in a significant reduction in the noise that reaches into living rooms as pilots master new flying techniques that are compatible with both the safety and the comfort of passengers.

Getting all the noise "pollution" out of the aviation business is, however, too costly a problem to be solved overnight. Communities such as Los Angeles that depend for their economic life on air accessibility must go slow about issuing ukases to the air lines. When an 11-to-7 overnight curfew was suggested for Los Angeles in deference to householders who complained that noise pollution was disturbing their sleep, it was quickly discovered that such a curfew could not be synchronized with service to and from Tokyo, Singapore, Anchorage, Miami or even New York City. Moreover, much of the U.S. airmail is moved at night. Midnight-to-dawn curfews at airports would demand a total reorganization of the U.S. Post Office. Who could hope to achieve that?

In Britain, houses close to Heathrow Airport have been sound-proofed. But the cost of sound-proofing high-rise apartments in Queens County on Long Island would impose a fearsome burden on real estate interests.

In spite of the difficulties inherent in noise abatement, the long-term trend is to a quieter air fleet. By the end of 1975 the newer and less noisy jets will make up some 15 per cent of the planes in operation.

So it is surely a "doomsday syndrome" that insists on ecological pessimism insofar as the airlines are concerned. Mr. Maddox's thesis has at least that much corroboration.

Many New Faces Show Up As Congress Reconvenes

WASHINGTON (AP) — There will be younger faces in the Senate and more women and black legislators in the House when the 93rd Congress begins its work on Wednesday.

Here's a look at some of the new members.

Delaware's Democratic Sen. Joseph Biden will be the Senate's youngest member at 30, the minimum constitutional age.

Two Southern states replaced veteran Democratic senators with Republicans. Virginia broke an 80-year tradition when it elected Republican William L. Scott—a conservative House member—and North Carolina chose a conservative television editorialist, Jesse Helms.

In Kentucky, a retiring liberal Republican was replaced by a moderate Democrat, Walter "Dee" Huddleston, a state legislative leader.

And South Dakota voters transferred Democrat James Abourezk from the House to the Senate.

Other Senate newcomers are Sam

Nunn, D-Ga.; Pete V. Domenici, R-N.M.; Dick Clark, D-Iowa; James A. McClure, R-Idaho; William D. Hathaway, D-Maine; Dewey Bartlett, R-Okla.; and Floyd D. Haskell, D-Colo.

The election of several new House members strengthened the ranks of women and black legislators.

Barbara Jordan, a Houston Democrat, became the first black Texan in the House since Reconstruction.

Another black woman, California Democrat Yvonne Brathwaite Burke, was elected, and so was another black Southerner, Georgia Democrat Andrew Young.

Republican Majorie Holt won in a new Maryland district.

And two young women's liberation activists—both Democrats—earned House membership. Elizabeth Holtzman won in a New York district, and Patricia Schroeder became the first woman elected to the House from Colorado.

Editions Of The Past

JANUARY 1958
15 YEARS AGO

The city of Circleville was under new management. Mayor Ben H. Gordon was starting his fourth term as the chief executive officer of the city. Robert Huffer became the city's new solicitor and Richard Penn became the new city council president. Carl Radcliff became the Service director, Health Director was John Himrod and the Safety Director was Miller Fissell.

Burglars who entered the D. J. Conley Service Station, Derby, made off with cash and merchandise valued at $264. Deputy Dwight Radcliff said that entry was gained by forcing an outside rear door and an inner door. Stolen were $97 in cash, $10 in change from the pinball machine, 15 cartons of cigarettes, 13 cigars, 13 cigarette lighters, five flashlights, eight ink pens and one wristwatch.

Carl (Cottie) Radcliff took over as service director of Circleville replacing Deway Speakman who retired. Speakman, director under former mayor Robert E. Hedges could have stayed with the job up until Jan. 13 but he chose to resign of the third.

The General Electric Company announced plans to expand the Circleville Lamp plant. The local project was a part of a $15 million Lamp Division modernization and expansion program for 1958. The announcement came from E. E. Grigg, manager of the Circleville plant. The Lamp Division operated in 28 cities and employed 18,000 persons, most in Ohio.

Mr. J. J., Tex

Dear Mr. J.:

I am relatively sure that heredity plays no part in the enlargement of the prostate.

Since so many people past middle age develop some problem with the prostate, it is more likely a coincidence than an inherited disorder.

Although it is rather unusual for the prostate to be enlarged at your age, it is a very simple procedure to learn by medical examination if there is any enlargement or infection of the prostate gland.

The size of the prostate can be determined by the physician; he can easily feel it by rectal examination. In fact, this examination is part of every complete physical workup.

Many of the letters I receive from readers indicate a great deal of confusion about the prostate gland.

Contrary to general belief, the gland itself does not produce sperm. Rather, it produces a thickened fluid.

The sperm itself is produced in the testicles and is carried forth in the fluid produced by the prostate.

There are few conditions that cause more confusion and anxiety than disorders of the prostate.

Often, unfounded fear keeps people from bringing minor complaints to the attention of their doctors.

Frequency of urination and inability to completely empty the bladder should be discussed with the doctor. Often, with drugs and prostatic massage the problem can be eliminated.

Is there any reason why I should not safely travel by air during my first few months of pregnancy?

Mrs. E. D., Maine

Dear Mrs. D.:

Medical departments of most major airlines constantly seek to establish more and more rules for safety.

But it is virtually impossible to lay down general rules that will apply to every individual.

Only your own doctor, after complete evaluation of your medical condition, can make the best recommendations about flying.

This applies, too, for people with high blood pressure, heart disorders, sinus infections, ear trouble and lung conditions.

What is meant by "water treatment" for people with arthritis?

Mrs. H. E. R., Del.

Dear Mrs. R.:

Hydrotherapy is an excellent form of treatment that uses swimming pools, hot sprays, and whirlpool-activated baths to bring more blood to the skin, the joints, and muscles of the body.

Some forms of arthritis are benefited by carefully prescribed use of such baths.

For centuries, spas all over the world have been using these treatments with distinct psychological and physical benefits.

Ecology and Airplanes

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

John Maddox, a leading British scientist, happens to be the editor of Nature magazine. Judging by the nature of his job, which compels him to consort with the modern band of intellectual, one would expect him to be one of the ecological doomsayers. But in Mr. Maddox's case we have a rather optimistic and definitely refreshing "man bites dog" situation. He has written a book called "The Domesday Syndrome" (McGraw-Hill, $6.95) which attacks most of his brother ecologists — Paul Ehrlich, author of "The Population Bomb," Barry Commoner, author of "The Closing Circle," et cetera — for erring drastically on the pessimistic side.

I am midway in Mr. Maddox's book, and hope to report on it in detail later on. Meanwhile it is interesting to test the Maddox thesis against a recent report from the American aviation industry, which has been under pressure from Federal and local governments to clean up both its exhaust emissions and its noise pollution.

The aviation industry, through its spokesman, Stuart Tipton, president of the Air Transport Association, doesn't make any fantastic claims, but what it does have to report is thoroughly in keeping with Maddox's basic optimism. Briefly, the big newer planes — the 747, the Lockheed 1011, and the DC-10 — have licked the black smoke problem. It cost the aviation industry $30 million over a five-year period to make a burner capable of taking the smoke out of plane emissions.

For the older four-engine jets the industry has not managed to come up with a satisfactory "retrofit" fix. But the older four-engine jets are being phased out, and eventually the black smoke from plane exhausts will disappear from the atmosphere. The problem of invisible emissions has not yet been mastered, but some progress has been made in eliminating such poisons in the engines used on the newer wide-bodied jets. In any case, invisible emissions from planes are insignificant when compared to what comes out of the average automobile exhaust.

The problem of noise happens to be considerably more refractory than the smoke problem. Again, progress has been made with the newer jet engines: the 747 and the wide-bodied tri-jets have been designed from scratch to be relatively quiet as well as clean. Moreover, a lot has been learned in recent years about utilizing the seaward approaches to landing fields on the coasts, which diminishes the impact of noises on people who live near airports in Los Angeles and on Long Island. Taking off and landing at higher "deck angles" also results in a significant reduction in the noise that reaches into living rooms as pilots master new flying techniques that are compatible with both the safety and the comfort of passengers.

Getting all the noise "pollution" out of the aviation business is, however, too costly a problem to be solved overnight. Communities such as Los Angeles that depend for their economic life on air accessibility must go slow about issuing ukases to the air lines. When an 11-to-7 overnight curfew was suggested for Los Angeles in deference to householders who complained that noise pollution was disturbing their sleep, it was quickly discovered that such a curfew could not be synchronized with service to and from Tokyo, Singapore, Anchorage, Miami or even New York City. Moreover, much of the U.S. airmail is moved at night. Midnight-to-dawn curfews at airports would demand a total reorganization of the U.S. Post Office. Who could hope to achieve that?

In Britain, houses close to Heathrow Airport have been sound-proofed. But the cost of sound-proofing high-rise apartments in Queens County on Long Island would impose a fearsome burden on real estate interests. In spite of the difficulties inherent in noise abatement, the long-term trend is to a quieter air fleet. By the end of 1975 the newer and less noisy jets will make up some 15 per cent of the planes in operation. So it is surely a "doomsday syndrome" that insists on ecological pessimism insofar as the airlines are concerned. Mr. Maddox's thesis has at least that much corroboration.

Nunn, D-Ga.; Pete V. Domenici, R-N.M.; Dick Clark, D-Iowa; James A. McClure, R-Idaho; William D. Hathaway, D-Maine; Dewey Bartlett, R-Okla.; and Floyd D. Haskell, D-Colo. The election of several new House members strengthened the ranks of women and black legislators.

Barbara Jordan, a Houston Democrat, became the first black Texan in the House since Reconstruction.

Another black woman, California Democrat Yvonne Brathwaite Burke, was elected, and so was another black Southerner, Georgia Democrat Andrew Young.

Republican Majorie Holt won in a new Maryland district.

And two young women's liberation activists—both Democrats—earned House membership. Elizabeth Holtzman won in a New York district, and Patricia Schroeder became the first woman elected to the House from Colorado.

Many New Faces Show Up As Congress Reconvenes

WASHINGTON (AP) — There will be younger faces in the Senate and more women and black legislators in the House when the 93rd Congress begins its work on Wednesday.

Here's a look at some of the new members.

Delaware's Democratic Sen. Joseph Biden will be the Senate's youngest member at 30, the minimum constitutional age.

Two Southern states replaced veteran Democratic senators with Republicans. Virginia broke an 80-year tradition when it elected Republican William L. Scott—a conservative House member—and North Carolina chose a conservative television editorialist, Jesse Helms.

In Kentucky, a retiring liberal Republican was replaced by a moderate Democrat, Walter "Dee" Huddleston, a state legislative leader.

And South Dakota voters transferred Democrat James Abourezk from the House to the Senate.

Other Senate newcomers are Sam

JANUARY 1958

15 YEARS AGO

The city of Circleville was under new management. Mayor Ben H. Gordon was starting his fourth term as the chief executive officer of the city. Robert Huffer became the city's new solicitor and Richard Penn became the new city council president. Carl Radcliff became the Service director, Health Director was John Himrod and the Safety Director was Miller Fissell.

Burglars who entered the D. J. Conley Service Station, Derby, made off with cash and merchandise valued at $264. Deputy Dwight Radcliff said that entry was gained by forcing an outside rear door and an inner door. Stolen were $97 in cash, $10 in change from the pinball machine, 15 cartons of cigarettes, 13 cigars, 13 cigarette lighters, five flashlights, eight ink pens and one wristwatch.

Carl (Cottie) Radcliff took over as service director of Circleville replacing Dewey Speakman who retired. Speakman, director under former mayor Robert E. Hedges could have stayed with the job up until Jan. 13 but he chose to resign of the third.

The General Electric Company announced plans to expand the Circleville Lamp plant. The local project was a part of a $15 million Lamp Division modernization and expansion program for 1958. The announcement came from E. E. Grigg, manager of the Circleville plant. The Lamp Division operated in 28 cities and employed 18,000 persons, most in Ohio.

Council Approves $477,000 Budget For 1973

Circleville City Council passed its estimated budget for 1973 Tuesday night after its third reading.

The budget, based on estimated income for the year as certified by Pickaway County Auditor Marvin Rhodes, has a total of $477,403 in the general fund, as compared to $415,828.30 last year.

Here is the complete budget with last year's appropriations listed in parentheses:

COUNCIL

Talmadge Plans Farm Loan Probe

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., says his Senate Agriculture Committee is investigating President Nixon's decision to freeze low-interest loans and $208 million in congressionally approved conservation funds for farmers.

Talmadge, chairman of the committee, said Monday he would "have something to say about it on the floor of Congress" when he returns to Washington Wednesday. The senator has been spending the holidays at his home in Lovejoy.

Talmadge said the committee has been looking into Nixon's move last week to suspend interest-subsidized loans to rural electric cooperatives and to cut back spending in the Rural Environmental Adjustment Program (REAP).

"They'll report their findings to me when I get back to Washington," Talmadge said in an interview. "I don't think the President has the authority to withhold funds that the Congress has appropriated."

Congress last year authorized expenditure of $208 million to help farmers "subsidize the conservation of the soil, to plant trees, preserve wildlife and clean water," Talmadge said. Nixon's budget calls for spending only $140 million.

The senator said all the programs were vital to farmers but he mentioned in particular the 2 per cent interest loans.

"I think you know how important REA is to farmers," he said. "And, if something of nature destroys a farmer's crops, it is imperative that he get loans from somewhere to carry on."

maintenance and supplies, $4,000 ($4,000); insurance, $825 ($825); advisory services, $1,000 (none); collection office salaries, $5,461 ($4,500); collection office supplies and incidentals, $1,000 ($1,000); sanitary sewer maintenance salaries and extra labor, $15,731.50 ($14,600); maintenance and equipment, $6,000 ($6,000).

Total, sanitary sewer operating, $107,968.70 ($96,875).

WATERWORKS OPERATING FUND OFFICE

Group Requests Tax Issue Probe

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (AP)— A group opposing Ohio's income tax announced Tuesday it has asked the Internal Revenue Service and the state auditor's office to undertake investigations of the pro-tax campaign last fall.

A constitutional amendment proposal which would have eliminated the tax was rejected by voters in the general election Nov. 7.

Citizens for Constitutional Taxes Chairman Robert Woodman of Willoughby said he asked the IRS to look into reports that the Cleveland Development Foundation, a tax-exempt foundation, had contributed $2,000 to supporters of the income tax.

Talmadge Plans Farm Loan Probe

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., says his Senate Agriculture Committee is investigating President Nixon's decision to freeze low-interest loans and $208 million in congressionally approved conservation funds for farmers.

Talmadge, chairman of the committee, said Monday he would "have something to say about it on the floor of Congress" when he returns to Washington Wednesday. The senator has been spending the holidays at his home in Lovejoy.

Talmadge said the committee has been looking into Nixon's move last week to suspend interest-subsidized loans to rural electric cooperatives and to cut back spending in the Rural Environmental Adjustment Program (REAP).

"They'll report their findings to me when I get back to Washington," Talmadge said in an interview. "I don't think the President has the authority to withhold funds that the Congress has appropriated."

Congress last year authorized expenditure of $208 million to help farmers "subsidize the conservation of the soil, to plant trees, preserve wildlife and clean water," Talmadge said. Nixon's budget calls for spending only $140 million.

The senator said all the programs were vital to farmers but he mentioned in particular the 2 per cent interest loans.

"I think you know how important REA is to farmers," he said. "And, if something of nature destroys a farmer's crops, it is imperative that he get loans from somewhere to carry on."

Group Requests Tax Issue Probe

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (AP)— A group opposing Ohio's income tax announced Tuesday it has asked the Internal Revenue Service and the state auditor's office to undertake investigations of the pro-tax campaign last fall.

A constitutional amendment proposal which would have eliminated the tax was rejected by voters in the general election Nov. 7.

Citizens for Constitutional Taxes Chairman Robert Woodman of Willoughby said he asked the IRS to look into reports that the Cleveland Development Foundation, a tax-exempt foundation, had contributed $2,000 to supporters of the income tax.

Marriage Vows Exchanged
In Trinity Lutheran Church

MRS. EDWIN BROCK BELL

Trinity Lutheran Church in Circleville was decorated with white chrysanthemums and pink Sonia roses on the altar, and evergreens and pink Dusty Sim carnations and pink bows marked the pews for the wedding of Miss Paula Marie Hedges and Mr. Edwin Brock Bell.

The Rev. Carl Zehner performed the double ring ceremony 7:30 p.m. Dec. 27th for the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Hedges, 980 N. Court St., and the son of Mr. Joseph F. Bell, 581 N. Court St. and the late Mrs. Joseph F. Bell.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She selected for her wedding a rose, angel satin, full length gown. The empire bodice featured a jeweled design of gold braid encrusted with pearls, emeralds and amethysts, a high rolled collar and long tapered sleeves with jeweled cuffs.

The bride's gathered skirt was enhanced with self-covered buttons and the wattleau train extended to chapel length. Her chapel veil of silk illusion was held in place by a jeweled satin helmet with ties at the side. She carried a casual bouquet of red Forever Yours roses with variegated English holly. Her only jewelry was diamond earrings, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Brent Bell, sister-in-law of the groom, served as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Lynn Ondrey of Brecksville, a friend of the bride from Laurel School, Shaker Heights, and Miss Nancy Hedges, sister of the bride.

The attendants selected ruby chiffon velvet gowns with empire bodices fashioned with jewel necklines and Juliet sleeves. The full length skirts were slightly gathered. As headpieces they wore matching velvet bonnets and veiling and each carried a single pink Sonia Rose. Their gold pendant necklaces were gifts of the bride.

Mr. Brent Bell was best man with Mr. Brian Bell and Mr. Bruce Bell as ushers for their brother.

Mrs. Hedges wore an emerald green chiffon velvet gown with gold accessories and a corsage of pink Sonia roses.

Marriage Vows Exchanged
In Trinity Lutheran Church

MRS. EDWIN BROCK BELL

Trinity Lutheran Church in Circleville was decorated with white chrysanthemums and pink Sonia roses on the altar, and evergreens and pink Dusty Sim carnations and pink bows marked the pews for the wedding of Miss Paula Marie Hedges and Mr. Edwin Brock Bell.

The Rev. Carl Zehner performed the double ring ceremony 7:30 p.m. Dec. 27th for the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Hedges, 980 N. Court St., and the son of Mr. Joseph F. Bell, 581 N. Court St. and the late Mrs. Joseph F. Bell.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She selected for her wedding a rose, angel satin, full length gown. The empire bodice featured a jeweled design of gold braid encrusted with pearls, emeralds and amethysts, a high rolled collar and long tapered sleeves with jeweled cuffs.

The bride's gathered skirt was enhanced with self-covered buttons and the wattleau train extended to chapel length. Her chapel veil of silk illusion was held in place by a jeweled satin helmet with ties at the side. She carried a casual bouquet of red Forever Yours roses with variegated English holly. Her only jewelry was diamond earrings, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Brent Bell, sister-in-law of the groom, served as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Lynn Ondrey of Brecksville, a friend of the bride from Laurel School, Shaker Heights, and Miss Nancy Hedges, sister of the bride.

The attendants selected ruby chiffon velvet gowns with empire bodices fashioned with jewel necklines and Juliet sleeves. The full length skirts were slightly gathered. As headpieces they wore matching velvet bonnets and veiling and each carried a single pink Sonia Rose. Their gold pendant necklaces were gifts of the bride.

Mr. Brent Bell was best man with Mr. Brian Bell and Mr. Bruce Bell as ushers for their brother.

Mrs. Hedges wore an emerald green chiffon velvet gown with gold accessories and a corsage of pink Sonia roses.

Ruth Circle To Meet

The newly organized Ruth Circle of Community United Methodist Church will have its first meeting 9:30 a.m. Thursday in the home of Mrs. J. Boyd Stout, 812 Arbor Road.

Club Sets Speaker

Solaqua Garden Club will meet 1:30 p.m. Friday in the Ashville Coffee Shop, Ashville.

"The Gardeners' January General" is the title of the program to be presented by Mrs. Charles Huston.

The executive board recommended that the chapter purchase four copies of "The Daughters Of The American Revolution In Washington." members agreed to buy the books and they are to be given to the High School senior girls who merit in the Good Citizen Award.

Two rosters of the soldiers of the Revolutionary War who lived in the state of Ohio were received by Mrs. Peters. These are gifts to the chapter from the Ohio Society. The executive board recommended that one copy be kept by the registrar and given to succeeding registrars.

Following the business meeting Mrs. Henry Bartholomew introduced Mrs. Caldwell who presented the program, "Christmas In The Holy Land." Mrs. Caldwell has traveled extensively and always brings home a great number of slides which she shows to entertain her many friends and clubs.

In her narration members were vicariously visiting the same places as the many other travelers. Mrs. Caldwell guided them through the narrow and winding streets of Bethlehem and Jerusalem to the markets and shops and to the newer sections of the cities, the parks and modern hotels.

Jerusalem is the Holy City to the Jewish people, Muslims and Christians. The different religious groups make yearly pilgrimages to the Holy City. The Christians especially like to visit Jerusalem and Bethlehem at Easter and Christmas.

Interesting too, were the pictures of the areas surrounding these two holy cities. Hilly land with little or no vegetation over which the Bedouin Arabs wandered seeking food and water for their herds of animals. On these hillsides centuries ago the shepherds were herding their flock of sheep when the angels announced to them that Christ was born in Bethlehem. Today there stands the oldest Christian church in the world. It is built over the stone hewn manger in which the Christ Child lay. The original church, built in the early days to preserve for posterity the place of the birth of Jesus, has been rebuilt and is the one standing today.

Hostesses for the day were: Mrs. Donald H. Watt, Mrs. T. L. Cromley, Mrs. Paul Cromley, Mrs. Daniel Eitel, Mrs. Charles May, Miss Jane Watt.

Mrs. Leland Pontius, Mrs. C. E. Mahaffey, Mrs. Lawrence Liston, Mrs. Russell McDill, Mrs. Lawrence Johnson, Mrs. Harry Speakman, Mrs. Christian Schwarz and Mrs. Eillot Miller.

Annual Banquet Set

Reps. Celeste, Fry Offer Ethics Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Legislation to create a code of ethics for Ohio lawmakers was offered in the House Tuesday by Rep. Richard Celeste, D-5 Cleveland, and Rep. Charles Fry, R-75 Springfield.

It was not an administration bill and did not call for full disclosure of financial worth, a requirement that Gov. John Gilligan has insisted must be included in such a measure.

A spokesman for the governor said the administration expects to have its own measure ready for the legislature in a week or so.

Gilligan has said he thinks the bill stands a good chance of being approved by the new legislature.

But some observers don't agree. One of them is outgoing Finance Director Harold Hovey.

Hovey, who helped plug for an administration code of ethics bill last year, told newsmen Tuesday he felt the measure's chances would have been better tied to the touchy question of legislative pay raises.

Legislation providing about a 10 per cent pay raise for lawmakers whose terms began Jan. 1 was approved during a lame duck session of the old general assembly Dec. 15. The ethics bill had been sidetracked months earlier.

Now that the salary increase issue has been resolved, Hovey said he believes "a substantial number of members will oppose an ethics bill."

It's not a partisan issue, he said. "There are members of both parties who do not want it."

Plan Protest At Crossing Site For Big Shovels

BARNESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Environmentalists who were thwarted in their legal efforts to stop the move of two giant strip mining machines across Interstate 70 near here are planning a peaceful protest at the crossing site Thursday.

David Brennan of Athens said a coalition of environmentalists from Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia will conduct the demonstration to protest the introduction of strip mining into this area of Belmont County.

He said the group will attempt to alert citizens about the effects of strip mining, but will not try to stop the crossing of the shovels.

The protestors will gather at Ohio 800 north of here Thursday afternoon, Brennan said, then march to I-70 and stand at a point overlooking the crossing site.

Esther and Lori Lee O'Connor visited last Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Haven Van Fossin and family on Dyer Road.

The Christian Women's club luncheon will be Jan. 10 at Pickaway Arms, Circleville. Time 11:45 a.m. - 2 p.m. Feature - Artex Paint Demonstration, Music by Helen Blum. Speaker of the day will be Mr. Hall Derkin.

Make reservations before Jan. 8. Call Pat Wellman 474-2992.

Mr. and Mrs. George Haughn and family of Florence, S. C. spent the Christmas holidays with relatives here.

The regular meeting of the Philathea Club will be Jan. 9.

Christmas dinner guests at the Davis house were Mr. and Mrs. John Richardson Brad and Shelly, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Davis, Vallery, and Jeff, Emery and Peggy and Curtis, Dave and Barbara Groves of Ashville, Esther and Lori O'Connor and Mr. and Mrs. Jake Ranke of Grove City.

Mrs. Elsie Dill and children have moved to Pensacola, Fla. to join her husband Walter Dill who is stationed there.

Turkey, ham and all the trimmings graced the table of the George Nulls on Christmas Day. Guests were Owen and Polly Lawless, Dick and Annie, Joylin, Mindy and Roxann, Jim and Sandy, son Troy and Jim Pritchard, George and Esther, Kathy and Georgie. Afternoon callers were Andy Null, Warren Null and Darryl Everts.

Late afternoon and evening callers were Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lawless of Lexington, Ky., Tony and Lonnie Lawless of Gahanna, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Nungester.

New Years Day, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Lawless entertained their family to a buffet dinner with sauerkraut being a must on everyone's plate. Afterwards all enjoyed watching the Rose Bowl game in which Ohio State went down to a sad defeat.

Guests were Owen and Polly Lawless, Dick and Annie, Joylin, Mindy and Roxann, Jim and Sandy, son Troy and Jim Pritchard, George and Esther, Kathy and Georgie. Afternoon callers were Andy Null, Warren Null and Darryl Everts.

Late afternoon and evening callers were Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lawless of Lexington, Ky., Tony and Lonnie Lawless of Gahanna, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Nungester.

New Years Day, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Lawless entertained their family to a buffet dinner with sauerkraut being a must on everyone's plate. Afterwards all enjoyed watching the Rose Bowl game in which Ohio State went down to a sad defeat.

Mrs. Mary Davis spent Friday with her son Richard and family on Holton Road.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kaiser have moved into their new home.

Beth Browning and brother John left last Tuesday for their separate universities. Beth is returning to Miami and John to the University of Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. John Richardson visited Thursday in Columbus with old neighbors and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Myers and son Dickie have returned home after spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Dave (Becky) Merrill and daughter Lori of Lexington, Md.

Emergency runs Dec. 31 - Alva Layton, 52, Thriakill Road, possible heart attack - Mercy.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

A Name Over The Telephone?

DEAR ABBY: This is for "Offended in Houston" who doesn't like to give a secretary his name on the phone. I am a secretary and could not follow my bosses' instructions without asking names:

"Don't interrupt my conference unless Mr. X calls from New York. Don't accept any calls from Mr. Y in Seattle. He expects quotes on a contract for which I don't have the figures, and I don't want him to waste a call. If Mr. Z calls from Kansas City, tell him I'm in Europe. I'm tired of fooling with that character. If Mr. B calls from Chicago, tell him it's a deal."

My grandfather, who came over from Scotland, always said, "Never trust a man who will not proudly tell you his name."

ANOTHER SECRETARY
DEAR ABBY: "Offended in Houston" would be less offended if his secretary knew how to place a telephone call.

She should say, "Mr. Draykaup of Draykaup Nuts and Bolts would like to speak to Mr. Yourboss, please." That way Mr. Yourboss' secretary wouldn't have to ask who was calling.

But what really burns me is when Mr. Bigshot's secretary telephones and asks me to get my boss on the line, and then my boss has to wait forever until Mr. Bigshot finally gets on the line.

I now have a sure cure for that. When a secretary who makes a practice of doing this calls and says, "Mr. Bigshot wants to talk to Mr. Yourboss," I say, "Then please have Mr. Bigshot call him" and hang up.

ST. LOUIS SECRETARY
DEAR ABBY: Doesn't that idiot signed "Offended in Houston" realize that a busy executive doesn't have time to talk to everybody who calls him?

When I'm in a meeting or on another telephone call, I don't want to be disturbed, so I ask my secretary to find out who's calling so I can return the calls when I am free. Some calls I don't return at all because the caller is a pest and a time waster.

People who solicit funds on the telephone are a pain in the neck. I rarely return their calls, but I do give consideration to those who write letters.

BUSY EXECUTIVE
DEAR ABBY: I don't mind being asked by a secretary, "May I tell him who is calling?" But what really bugs me is having a child answer the telephone, and in a whining voice ask, "Who is this?"

NO PATIENCE IN MILWAUKEE

DEAR ABBY: When I make a telephone call, I say, "Hello, my name is Nicky Thompson." This establishes every thing from the start. And when I pronounce my name, I say it clearly. I am so annoyed when a person mumbles his name as though he were ashamed of it. I don't mean to sound smug, but it is so simple to identify oneself and thus relieve the other party of asking who you are.

MRS. NICKY THOMPSON
Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to AB-BY BOX 69700, L.A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The National Weather Service's summary of Ohio weather:

It was another cold night. Temperatures dropped well into the 20s and even into the teens in a few locations. Since midnight temperatures have steadied off or risen. For example Toledo dropped to 14 degrees but by 6 a.m. EST had warmed back to 21 degrees. The warming trend will be general throughout the state today and Thursday.

Now for the bad news. Clouds are spreading rapidly over the state from the south, and rain is not far behind. By sunset today all corners of the state will have had at least a little rain, the heaviest amounts falling in the southwest. The rain will remain with us through Thursday. Temperatures staying on the moderate side.

The morning weather map is one of change. Yesterdays high pressure area is nearly clear skies is now moving over the coast. A complex low pressure trough from western Ontario to the western Gulf of Mexico is now taking over as the dominant weather system. Warm moist air is pouring northward between these two systems.

FORECASTS

OHIO
Cloudy and warmer tonight and Thursday with rain likely. Lows tonight in the mid to upper 30s. Highs Thursday in the upper 40s and low 50s.

WEST LAKE SHORE
NORTHWEST INLAND

SOUTHWEST
Cloudy and warmer tonight and Thursday with rain tonight and a chance of rain Thursday. Lows tonight in the mid to upper 30s. Highs Thursday 50 to 55.

SOUTHEAST
Cloudy and mild tonight and Thursday with rain likely. Lows tonight in the mid to upper 30s. Highs Thursday in the low 50s.

FLASH FIRE EXPLOSION — Pickaway Twp. firemen extinguish a car blaze that injured five people 3:14 p.m. Monday at Dupont Road and Route 23. Deputy Jim Deal said Carolyn S. Dunn, 24, Columbus, was northbound on Route 23 when the muffler on her car overheated and ignited the car's gasoline tank. Firemen report that the rear half of the car seemed to be engulfed in flames when they arrived, but the fire was quickly put out and damage was held to about $50.

49 Cases Added In December

Forty-nine new cases were added to the docket of Common Pleas Court in December.

Of the 49, four involved damages for personal injury, 15 were criminal matters and 24 involved domestic relations. Six cases in other categories were filed.

During the same 31 day period, the court settled 32 cases. Twelve were decided by court trial, one by pre-trial, two were dismissed and nine were decided by default of opposing parties.

At the end of December, the docket contained 261 active cases to be carried into January.

Keating Won't Back Attempt By Group To Unseat Saxbe

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — U.S. Rep. William Keating, R-Ohio, says he will not be a part of any movement to unseat Sen. William Saxbe, R-Ohio, because of criticism of President Nixon's resumption of bombing in North Vietnam.

and would not be a part of any movement to run anyone against Sen. Saxbe," Keating told The Cincinnati Enquirer's Washington bureau. Keating had been asked about U.S. Rep. Donald Clancy's, R-Ohio, proposal to unseat Saxbe by running another candidate against him in the Keating, who is beginning his second term, said he felt the briefing should be held "within the next few days—next week, at the latest, I would think."

Keating noted that "we have fewer troops overseas now than at any time since 1950, according to what I have read, and this shows where the President is heading." "I think the Congress not only should be briefed on what the administration is doing in connection with the peace talks, but also given the chance to raise questions, and get the answers we need," Keating said. "After all, we are answerable to our constituents."

State To Escalate Fight Against Narcotic Pushers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Attorney General's office said Tuesday the state plans to escalate its war against drug pushers by expanding the Turn In a Pusher (TIP) program and by asking the 110th General Assembly for more narcotics agents.

A spokesman for Atty. Gen. William

Brown said the Ohio Outdoor Advertising association is presently negotiating with its members for free public service space on billboards to spread word about TIP around the state.

The attorney general began TIP last August so persons with information on drug pushers could telephone a central number with the details. The information is then given to Bureau of Criminal Identification's narcotics agents for coordination with the county sheriff's office or local police department.

So far, the spokesman said, "We have had amazing success with no more than what has been distributed to the news media and by pamphlets at fairs and other public gatherings."

"I would be surprised if we have exceeded $500 for the TIP program."

Partly as a result of TIP's success, the spokesman said, the attorney general will ask the legislature to double the current 15 agents working on drug cases that have zoomed upwards in recent months.

He said during the last four months of 1972, 190 drug-related indictments have been issued in cases handled by the agents. He added that the number represents a 300 per cent increase over the last four months of 1971.

"We are getting enough calls on the TIP direct line to keep agents busy," he said.

The attorney general's office does not maintain records to show how many calls to TIP have resulted in arrests. "We haven't been concerned with those kind of statistics," he said. "We only can give you the number of calls we receive, which is an indicator of public interest."

Hope New Flight Recorder Will Aid Air Crash Probe

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Federal officials say a sophisticated new flight-data recorder will help investigators determine why an Eastern Air Lines TriStar jetliner plunged into the Everglades swamp with 176 persons aboard.

Ed Slattery, spokesman for the National Transportation Safety Board, said the recorder was recovered Monday at the site of the wrecked Lockheed 1011 aircraft that crashed Friday night on a New York to Miami flight.

"This recorder has 64 value inputs, and it's the first time it has been used," Slattery said. "The previous ones gave only five, principally speed, altitude and heading."

He said a "myriad of details" on the stresses and operation of the plane's systems, broken into 10ths of a second development, would be provided by the recorder.

After being analyzed by Lockheed in Ontario, Calif., the information will be correlated with the cockpit voice tapes and those from the air-traffic-control tower.

Another system, called Automatic Radar Terminal Service (ARTS), will be used to check the other three.

"All these will give us a very good picture of what happened in the dark space west of the airfield before the accident," Slattery said. "However, it's not necessarily going to give us the exact cause."

Slattery said the tapes will be presented at a public hearing on the crash to be held some time in March.

Meanwhile, Eastern spokesmen said the death toll had mounted to 99 of the 176 persons aboard Flight 401.

"I expect we'll be sweating over the figures for two or three more days," said one official.

At latest count, there were 60 dead positively identified, 39 presumed killed and 77 survivors. But the fatality figures fluctuated, and the Dade County medical examiner reported 103 dead.

Searchers working Monday alongside crash investigators in the muddy sawgrass flatlands retrieved the bodies of four more victims, including those of stewardess Stephanie R. Stanich and 2-year-old John Kaminer.

Bodies of two unidentified men also were also brought to the Dade County morgue. Another passenger, Barulio Corretjer, 44, of Jersey City, N.J., died at Hialeah hospital.

Two survivors remain in critical condition, 25 are listed as serious, 30 as fair, 7 as satisfactory, 8 "in good shape" and 15 have been discharged.

None of the crew members in the cockpit at the moment of impact survived long enough to talk with investigators who hope to get an eyewitness account of what happened in Flight 401's last minutes.

New State Solons Learn Statehouse Rules

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The roll-call bell clanged in the Ohio House of Representatives Tuesday. Freshman legislator Gene Damschroder of Fremont dashed for his seat.

"I can't miss a vote," said the 50-year-old airport manager, a Republican newly-representing the 85th District. "They tell me they count on that."

Damschroder made it with minutes to spare.

But, greenhorns in the legislative business don't always slide by this easy. Damschroder found that out Monday, first day of the 110th General Assembly.

It was that roll-call bell again. It rang for the election of the Speaker of the House. No one had showed Damschroder how to vote electronically.

"I fiddled with the switch," he grinned. "I'm a beginner, and I didn't know too much of what was going on."

Finally, the fiddling produced a "yes" vote for Democrat A. G. Lacione, among the last to be recorded.

Thirty-two new members of the 99-member House face such political perils in the current, two-year legislative session. The Senate will have nine neophytes of 33 members.

Two freshman legislators in the House with Damschroder will be Frederick H. Deering, D-84 Monroeville, a farmer, and William Donham, R-57 Middletown, a supervisor for Armco Steel Corp. Damschroder and Donham sit side-by-side in the last row. Senior members get first choice on seats.

As a freshman legislator in the minority party, Donham said, "I don't plan to stand up and say this is what I want to do. I am going to be a good observer and a good listener at the start."

He said his legislative interests concern reimbursing victims of crime and seeing that school districts get a larger share of the state income tax.

Deering, on the opposite side of the House from the two freshman Republicans, said he came to the Statehouse early Tuesday to learn the logistics of his office. He said he found out about legislative procedures, stenographic equipment and using the telephones to call local state offices.

To better help him represent his district of Ottawa and parts of Erie and Wood counties, Deering planned to consult House Minority Leader Charles Kurfess.

Part of Kurfess' old district is now in Deering's district. The freshman legislator wants to find out problems and peculiarities of the area.

Donham said he will take his problems to Kurfess, leader of House Republicans, who had some advice for the freshmen.

Kurfess told them not to be "bulls in a china closet." The veteran legislator said they will attract attention, "if that's what they want."

Attention, Kurfess said, is not what's important. Getting along with others in the lower chamber is, he noted.

In the first two days of the 110th General Assembly, the freshman legislators, like Damschroder, were more interested in getting settled than attracting attention.

During Tuesday's 30-minute legislative session, Damschroder paged through his black House journal containing action of the previous day, when state representatives took their oaths of office and elected their leadership. He routinely voted on minor resolutions after mastering the electronic switch.

His legislative concerns are welfare spending, a stiffer vehicle inspection law and centralized issuance of drivers' licenses and plates.

He said it is time "to make a u-turn and start over" on welfare spending.

"I am not against welfare, but I am against the mismanagement and misuse of funds."

Damschroder suggested the state take a stronger role in place of the federal government in administration of welfare. "The state can take care of the problem right here. Why should we send our problems to Washington?"

The Fremont Republican proposes giving welfare recipients seeds to grow their own food and to make lists of the recipients public "so people can call them and give them work."

Drivers' licenses and plates, he said, should be handled by a central mailing office, rather than operating the "400 or so local offices" to distribute them to Ohioans.

He said the state's existing random safety inspection of highway vehicles is inadequate and should be toughened to remove unsafe vehicles from the highways.

"The random check doesn't mean anything now," he said.

As a novice in politics, Damschroder said he "didn't know politics from a load of hay" until he campaigned for the $14,000-a-year seat in the House. He added, "I'm learning."

Estel Salyers, 35, Route 3, forfeited $24 bond for speeding 75 miles per hour in a 60 zone.

Youth Back In Court

CINCINNATI (AP) — David Madden, 16, who was visiting his juvenile probation officer Tuesday when dynamite was found in his room and neighbors for a block around had to be evacuated, has been sent back to Hamilton County Juvenile Court.

Police Sgt. Walter Hanlon said no specific charges were placed against the youth but a referral for an investigation was made. Hanlon said Madden denied knowledge that the sticks were dynamite "but it was printed plainly on the sides."

Pearl Madden, father of David, found 10 sticks in a bookcase in his son's room. He said he made the discovery while looking for a book on electronics.

Police and the fire department bomb squad responded. Marshal Larry Schmoldt ordered the evacuation because the dynamite was old and the nitro glycerine in it had congealed.

"This made the situation very dangerous," he said. Seventy-five residents of the English Woods public housing project were ordered out for an hour.

Hanlon said young Madden "found" the dynamite in a farm shack while visiting relatives at North Vernon, Ind., over the Christmas holiday.

Ghost Ends Overtime

CHERTSEY, England (AP) — Workers at a printing factory in Surrey have banned overtime until the management can banish Henry, a ghost, from the shop floor. The men refuse to stay in the building after dark when, they claim, Henry opens and closes locked doors.

New State Solons Learn Statehouse Rules

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The roll-call bell changed in the Ohio House of Representatives Tuesday. Freshman legislator Gene Damschroder of Fremont dashed for his seat.

"I can't miss a vote," said the 50-year-old airport manager, a Republican newly-representing the 85th District. "They tell me they count on that."

Damschroder made it with minutes to spare.

But, greenhorns in the legislative business don't always slide by this easy. Damschroder found that out Monday, first day of the 110th General Assembly.

It was that roll-call bell again. It rang for the election of the Speaker of the House. No one had showed Damschroder how to vote electronically.

"I fiddled with the switch," he grinned. "I'm a beginner, and I didn't know too much of what was going on."

Finally, the fiddling produced a "yes" vote for Democrat A. G. Lacione, among the last to be recorded.

Thirty-two new members of the 99-member House face such political perils in the current, two-year legislative session. The Senate will have nine neophytes of 33 members.

Two freshman legislators in the House with Damschroder will be Frederick H. Deering, D-84 Monroeville, a farmer, and William Donham, R-57 Middletown, a supervisor for Armco Steel Corp. Damschroder and Donham sit side-by-side in the last row. Senior members get first choice on seats.

As a freshman legislator in the minority party, Donham said, "I don't plan to stand up and say this is what I want to do. I am going to be a good observer and a good listener at the start."

He said his legislative interests concern reimbursing victims of crime and seeing that school districts get a larger share of the state income tax.

Deering, on the opposite side of the House from the two freshman Republicans, said he came to the Statehouse early Tuesday to learn the logistics of his office. He said he found out about legislative procedures, stenographic equipment and using the telephones to call local state offices.

To better help him represent his district of Ottawa and parts of Erie and Wood counties, Deering planned to consult House Minority Leader Charles Kurfess.

Part of Kurfess' old district is now in Deering's district. The freshman legislator wants to find out problems and peculiarities of the area.

Donham said he will take his problems to Kurfess, leader of House Republicans, who had some advice for the freshmen.

Kurfess told them not to be "bulls in a china closet." The veteran legislator said they will attract attention, "if that's what they want."

Attention, Kurfess said, is not what's important. Getting along with others in the lower chamber is, he noted.

Boos Hit Maryland Cagers Despite Victory Over KSU

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's unusual for a team that wins by 18 points to get booed, but it happened to Maryland, the nation's second-ranked college basketball team.

The unbeaten Terps made it eight straight by beating Kent State 76-58 Tuesday night, but their play was lethargic. The boos came loud and clear from the crowd of 13,134 at College Park, Md., when Kent State ran out eight straight points in the first half to cut Maryland's lead to seven points.

"I don't think we were ready to play mentally," said Lefty Driesell, Maryland coach. "But a good club has to be ready all the time. Our guys have to learn that."

star, made only four of 10 shots and sat out the last 15 minutes with four personals. Len Elmore, one of the few Terps who was up to par, equalled a school record by grabbing 24 rebounds. He scored 10 points.

Vanderbilt, which dropped from 10th to 11th in the Associated Press rankings after losing to Memphis State Saturday, pulled out a 71-66 victory over Louisiana State. Lee Fowler's 20 points led the Commodores, who didn't get the lead for good until late in the game at 67-65.

North Carolina State, No. 4 in the AP rankings, scored an exhibition victory over Athletics in Action 105-88 and No. 13 Providence romped over Brown 83-53.

Hayes Says Art Rogers Wrong Man

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Woody Hayes says the man accusing him of battery is not the man with whom he had an altercation on the sidelines before the Rose Bowl game.

The veteran Ohio State coach was accused Tuesday in Pasadena of battery on Art Rogers, a 33-year sports photographer for the Los Angeles Times, who claimed that Hayes pushed his camera in his face, causing double vision.

Hayes has admitted having an altercation with a photographer. Tuesday night he was interviewed at a local television station and a tape of Rogers was shown. Hayes looked at Rogers on film, then said, "That's not the man."

Hayes said, "I'm confused. The man on the field was not that man in the film." He said the man he had a dispute with "had a beard. A big camera covered his face but I could still see the beard."

Still confused, Hayes remained in the television studio and had the film rerun for him. He maintained that the man in the film, clean-shaven, 55-year-old Rogers, was not the man with which he had the dispute.

Rogers' formal complaint Tuesday charged Hayes, 59, with causing him double vision and a minor injury in the incident 20 minutes before the game started. Arraignment was scheduled for Jan. 15.

Hayes said "I will be represented at the arraignment" when asked if he would make an appearance. He and his Ohio State football team, losers to Southern Cal 42-17 in the Rose Bowl game, were to leave today for Columbus.

Franco Harris Offensive Rookie Of Year

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Franco Harris said before his first season in the National Football League he just wanted "to do a job for the Pittsburgh Steelers."

"I have a very good feeling about the Steelers," said the team's husky, soft-spoken No. 1 draft choice at the start of 1972 drills.

The 230-pound Harris, commander of "Franco's Italian Army," cracked Pittsburgh's starting line-up at mid-season and exploded for 10 touchdowns. The son of a black father and Italian mother rushed for over 100 yards in seven games, including six straight, tying Jim Brown's alltime pro record. He finished the season with 1,055 yards rushing.

In short, Harris ruled the field from goalline to goalline and, for his efforts, gained recognition as The Associated Press Offensive Rookie of the Year in the NFL. Harris, who led the Steelers to the first division title in their 40-year history, grabbed 65 of 68 votes in the AP poll of pro football writers. The remaining three votes went to Green Bay placekicking whiz Chester Marcol.

"The season wasn't anything like I expected," Harris said, reflecting on his rookie year which also saw him catch 21 passes for 180 yards and return eight kickoffs for a 23-yard average.

"I can't really say what I was expecting. It just wasn't what I thought it would be," he said. "It was a growing period, a time when my life just began to fall into place."

The 6-foot-3 Harris said his biggest moment of the season was his freaky touchdown in the last seconds that gave Pittsburgh a 13-7 win over Oakland in the American Football Conference playoffs.

Pick Buchanon Defensive Rookie Of Year

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Opposing players, coaches and scouts always seem to learn about Willie Buchanon before the fans do.

As a college senior at San Diego State, Buchanon drew little attention because opposing quarterbacks practically never threw to a receiver he was guarding.

In his final season he allowed only 12 completions in 46 passes, intercepted five, then grabbed three more in the East-West game.

The lack of headlines didn't fool the Green Bay Packers, who made the 6-foot-1, 190-pound cornerback their first draft choice and signed him to a reported six-figure contract.

Their judgement was confirmed Tuesday when Buchanon, 22, was named the National Football League's Defensive Rookie of the Year by The Associated Press.

Despite a season in which he started every game, tied for the club lead with four interceptions and made a big contribution to the Packers' vastly improved secondary, Buchanon says he ranked below two other Green Bay rookies—kicker Chester Marcol and quarterback Jerry Tagge—in publicity.

"When you get rookies like Chester Marcol and Jerry Tagge on the same team, especially Marcol who's a great placekicker, you're still in the background," Buchanon said with a chuckle Tuesday in an interview from his San Diego apartment, from which he commutes to classes at San Diego State. He needs 11 units for his degree in education.

"It wasn't like I thought," Buchanon said of his first NFL season. "I thought they were going to come out bombing me. Jim Hill (Packer safety) kept telling me they know I'm a rookie and they're going to pick on me. But they didn't really try to."

Knicks Beat Milwaukee; Blame 4th Quarter Foldup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Do the New York Knicks have the Milwaukee Bucks psyched?

No, insists Milwaukee Coach Larry Costello, who watched his club drop its 10th straight National Basketball Association game at Madison Square Garden Tuesday night 102-92.

Yes, says Jerry Lucas of the Knicks, who helped Bill Bradley pace a fourth quarter New York surge that produced the victory.

Elsewhere in the NBA Tuesday night, Cleveland ripped Phoenix 111-88, Buffalo rapped Philadelphia 114-110, Chicago downed Atlanta 100-90, Boston whipped Houston 130-110, Golden State defeated Los Angeles 112-106 and Portland took Kansas City-Omaha 104-87.

There were no games scheduled in the American Basketball Association.

Milwaukee got 38 points from Kareem Abdul-Jabbar but still bowed to the Knicks in what is becoming a characteristic fourth quarter foldup. The last time the two teams met in New York, the Knicks shutout the Bucks 19-0 over the final 5½ minutes to eke out an 86-85 victory.

Lucas and Bradley scored eight points apiece in the fourth quarter New York rally. The score was tied 75-75 after three periods before the Knicks took control. But don't suggest to Costello that there's anything psychological about the Knicks and Bucks.

"I don't believe that and neither do my players," said Costello. "We hit them on a hot night. I don't think the Knicks can play any better. They don't beat themselves. We played good, but they played super."

Bradley led New York with 22 points and Walt Frazier had 19 while Lucas finished with 13.

Buffalo's Bob McAdoo scored 30 points and Elmore Smith added 23 and grabbed 15 rebounds, leading the Braves past hapless Philadelphia.

Cleveland Barons Top Baltimore, 2-1

BALTIMORE (AP) — Rod Norrish's goal from a scramble in front of the Baltimore Clipper net at 9:30 of the final period broke a 1-1 tie and gave the Cleveland Barons a 2-1 American Hockey League victory Tuesday night.

It was a battle of defenses featuring fine goaltending by Baltimore rookie Ken Lockett and Cleveland veteran Fern Rivard before the Barons finally pushed Baltimore winless home string to 11 games.

UC Grid Recruiting Turns Northward

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The University of Cincinnati has begun a football recruiting program in northern Ohio in an attempt to rebuild the fortunes of its ailing football program.

New Coach Tony Mason Tuesday announced the hiring of Niles McKinley High School Coach Bob Shaw as an assistant.

The 1973 USGA Amateur golf championship will be held at Inverness in Toledo, Aug. 29-Sept. 1.

Phil Bengtson Fired, Hadl Put On Block

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The San Diego Chargers have begun sifting through the wreckage of their 1972 National Football League season, firing assistant coach Phil Bengtson only three days after he rejoined the team and placing veteran quarterback John Hadl on the trading block.

Bengtson, 59, a former Green Bay Packers head coach, joined the Chargers as defensive coach in 1971 and became the team's pro talent director this year before being appointed interim head coach of the New England Patriots with five games to play.

After leaving the Patriots at the end of the season as planned, he rejoined the Chargers Sunday. Team officials announced the firing without comment Tuesday.

The Chargers also announced the firing Tuesday of equipment manager Tom Denman, who had been with the team since its birth in 1960.

Meanwhile, Hadl, who led the NFL in yardage and touchdown passes in 1971 but slumped this season as the Chargers finished with a 4-9 record, confirmed a report that he is expected to be traded soon.

All County Teams In Cage Action

Westfall will be the only county school seeing double cage action this week as the Mustangs host Adena in a Scioto Valley clash Friday night and travel to Circleville for a Saturday night encounter with the Tigers. Teays Valley will be at home with Franklin Heights and Logan Elm will entertain Madison Plains in the other Friday night tilts.

The game between Westfall and Circleville will be held at the Circleville Junior High gym on Mill St. with the reserve contest getting underway at 6:30 p.m.

Westfall has been having trouble getting untracked this season and is 0-9 in the record book. The Mustangs have been getting some scoring punch from Marc Easterday and Mike Peterson with Joe Angles and Jay Clark starting to find the range in the last couple of games played by the Scarlet and Gray.

The Mustangs showed signs of putting it all together in the recent Holiday Tournament and if they can stay away from the turnovers could come up with a win at the expense of Adena. It will be their second meeting with the Tigers with Circleville taking the opening tilt 77-45.

Teays Valley is 5-1 in Metropolitan League play and will be out for its second win over the Falcons of Franklin Heights.

The Vikings are 5-4 on the season and should put another victory in the book against the Falcons. Craig Pontius provides the Vikings with one of the top back court men in the area and Jim Logsdon and Jeff Anderson are producing some scoring punch and fine rebounding for the Blue and Gold. Foul trouble has hurt the Vikings in several games and they must keep their two big men, Logsdon and Anderson, on the floor instead of the bench if they are going to be successful.

Logan Elm is rapidly developing into one of the stronger teams in the area and the Braves are tough to beat on their own floor as Madison Plains will find out Friday night. The Braves will be going into the contest after winning the Holiday Tournament last week.

A good bench gives the Braves depth and balance and is one of the strong points of the club. Tom Sykes, Tim Justice and Steve Sargent give the Braves a fine outside shooting game with Stu Jones doing a good job inside. Mike Holbrook's quickness provides the Braves with steady floor play and defense. Sykes and Jones both go to the boards and furnish the rebounding work for Logan Elm.

In addition to having an offense that can put points on the board, the Braves utilize a tight defense which is a key factor in their success this year.

Deny Pont Railroaded By Indiana U

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Two Indiana University athletic officials have responded to criticism of their role in football Coach John Pont's quitting to become head coach at Northwestern.

Pont planned to leave Bloomington today for Evanston to begin organizing his new staff.

Donald Danielson, president of the Indiana University trustees, issued a public statement Tuesday criticizing Dr. Edwin H. Cady, faculty representative on the athletic committee, and Athletic Director Bill Orwig.

Cady and Orwig influenced the athletic committee when it tried to "steamroller" a five-year contract for Pont, Danielson said.

"There is no truth in that," Cady said in an interview with Bob Owens, sports editor of the Bloomington Courier-Tribune. "We had a meeting Nov. 17, a regularly called meeting scheduled in August. As a result of a vote in the meeting, where it was agreed that Bill Orwig should take a joint letter of information to the president (John Ryan), I did so and the letter was delivered on Monday, Nov. 20. I delivered it by hand to the president's office."

"As a matter of fact, the last time we renewed John Pont's contract, which was in January, 1968, that's the way it went—the director made a recommendation to the committee, which voted. The recommendation was carried to the president, who carried it to the trustees. All according to Hoyle."

Atlanta Flames Eye Spot In Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Would you believe the fledgling Atlanta Flames in the National Hockey League playoffs?

"It's too early to tell," said Coach Bernie "Boom Boom" Geoffrion following Tuesday night's 6-1 rout of the Flames' fellow expansionists, the New York Islanders.

Nevertheless, the victory lifted the Flames into a fourthplace tie with Philadelphia in the West Division ... and fourth is the last playoff berth.

Boos Hit Maryland Cagers Despite Victory Over KSU

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
It's unusual for a team that wins by 18 points to get booed, but it happened to Maryland, the nation's second-ranked college basketball team.

The unbeaten Terps made it eight straight by beating Kent State 76-58 Tuesday night, but their play was lethargic. The boos came loud and clear from the crowd of 13,134 at College Park, Md., when Kent State ran off eight straight points in the first half to cut Maryland's lead to seven points.

"I don't think we were ready to play mentally," said Lefty Driesell, Maryland coach. "But a good club has to be ready all the time. Our guys have to learn that."

Tom McMillen, the Terps' 6-foot-10

star, made only four of 10 shots and sat out the last 15 minutes with four personals. Len Elmore, one of the few Terps who was up to par, equalled a school record by grabbing 24 rebounds. He scored 10 points.

Vanderbilt, which dropped from 10th to 11th in the Associated Press rankings after losing to Memphis State Saturday, pulled out a 71-46 victory over Louisiana State. Lee Fowler's 20 points led the Commodores, who didn't get the lead for good until late in the game at 67-65.

North Carolina State, No. 4 in the AP rankings, scored an exhibition victory over Athletics in Action 105-88 and No. 13 Providence romped over Brown 83-53.

Michigan State, fresh from its victory in the Kodak Classic, knocked Mississippi State from the unbeaten ranks 90-82 in the first round of the Senior Bowl as Bill Kilgore and Mike Robinson each threw in 22 points. South Alabama upset Hawaii 87-76 in the other first round game at Mobile.

Mike Lee scored 29 points to lead Syracuse over Holy Cross 80-71 as the Orange rebounded from its 90-76 defeat by Maryland Saturday. Iowa, paced by 21 points from 7-foot Kevin Kunnert, ran off 12 straight points in the final minutes to overcome Iowa State 66-57.

Florida Southern beat St. Peter's 72-64 and Stetson tripped Bucknell in overtime 59-55 in the first round of the Hatter Classic.

Oklahoma City, a leading independent, upped its record to 10-3 by defeating Nevada-Las Vegas 81-73. San Diego State downed Colorado 65-60. Jacksonville whipped Georgia Southern 87-72. Auburn humble Mississippi 66-58 and DePaul scored over Eastern Illinois 76-58 in other games.

Hayes Says Art Rogers Wrong Man

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Woody Hayes says the man accusing him of battery is not the man with whom he had an altercation on the sidelines before the Rose Bowl game.

The veteran Ohio State coach was accused Tuesday in Pasadena of battery on Art Rogers, a 33-year sports photographer for the Los Angeles Times, who claimed that Hayes pushed his camera in his face, causing double vision.

Hayes has admitted having an altercation with a photographer. Tuesday night he was interviewed at a local television station and a tape of Rogers was shown. Hayes looked at Rogers on film, then said, "That's not the man."

Hayes said, "I'm confused. The man on the field was not that man in the film." He said the man he had a dispute with "had a beard. A big camera covered his face but I could still see the beard."

Still confused, Hayes remained in the television studio and had the film rerun for him. He maintained that the man in the film, clean-shaven, 55-year-old Rogers, was not the man with which he had the dispute.

Rogers' formal complaint Tuesday charged Hayes, 59, with causing him double vision and a minor injury in the incident 20 minutes before the game started. Arraignment was scheduled for Jan. 15.

Hayes said "I will be represented at the arraignment" when asked if he would make an appearance. He and his Ohio State football team, losers to Southern Cal 42-17 in the Rose Bowl game, were to leave today for Columbus.

Franco Harris Offensive Rookie Of Year

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Franco Harris said before his first season in the National Football League he just wanted "to do a job for the Pittsburgh Steelers."

"I have a very good feeling about the Steelers," said the team's husky, soft-spoken No. 1 draft choice at the start of 1972 drills.

The 230-pound Harris, commander of "Franco's Italian Army," cracked Pittsburgh's starting line-up at mid-season and exploded for 10 touchdowns. The son of a black father and Italian mother rushed for over 100 yards in seven games, including six straight, tying Jim Brown's alltime pro record. He finished the season with 1,055 yards rushing.

In short, Harris ruled the field from goalline to goalline and, for his efforts, gained recognition as The Associated Press Offensive Rookie of the Year in the NFL. Harris, who led the Steelers to the first division title in their 40-year history, grabbed 65 of 68 votes in the AP poll of pro football writers. The remaining three votes went to Green Bay placekicking whiz Chester Marcol.

"The season wasn't anything like I expected," Harris said, reflecting on his rookie year which also saw him catch 21 passes for 180 yards and return eight kickoffs for a 23-yard average.

"I can't really say what I was expecting. It just wasn't what I thought it would be," he said. "It was a growing period, a time when my life just began to fall into place."

The 6-foot-3 Harris said his biggest moment of the season was his freaky touchdown in the last seconds that gave Pittsburgh a 13-7 win over Oakland in the American Football Conference playoffs.

"When you get rookies like Chester Marcol and Jerry Tagge on the same team, especially Marcol who's a great placekicker, you're still in the background," Buchanan said with a chuckle Tuesday in an interview from his San Diego apartment, from which he commutes to classes at San Diego State. He needs 11 units for his degree in education.

"It wasn't like I thought," Buchanan said of his first NFL season. "I thought they were going to come out bombing me. Jim Hill (Packer safety) kept telling me they know I'm a rookie and they're going to pick on me. But they didn't really try to."

Cleveland Barons Top Baltimore, 2-1

BALTIMORE (AP) — Rod Norrish's goal from a scramble in front of the Baltimore Clipper net at 9:30 of the final period broke a 1-1 tie and gave the Cleveland Barons a 2-1 American Hockey League victory Tuesday night.

It was a battle of defenses featuring fine goaltending by Baltimore rookie Ken Lockett and Cleveland veteran Fern Rivard before the Barons finally pushed Baltimore winless home string to 11 games.

UC Grid Recruiting Turns Northward

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The University of Cincinnati has begun a football recruiting program in northern Ohio in an attempt to rebuild the fortunes of its ailing football program.

New Coach Tony Mason Tuesday announced the hiring of Niles McKinley High School Coach Bob Shaw as an assistant.

The 1973 USGA Amateur golf championship will be held at Inverness in Toledo, Aug. 28-Sept. 1.

Pick Buchanan Defensive Rookie Of Year

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Opposing players, coaches and scouts always seem to learn about Willie Buchanan before the fans do.

As a college senior at San Diego State, Buchanan drew little attention because opposing quarterbacks practically never threw to a receiver he was guarding.

In his final season he allowed only 12 completions in 46 passes, intercepted five, then grabbed three more in the East-West game.

The lack of headlines didn't fool the Green Bay Packers, who made the 6-foot-1, 190-pound cornerback their first draft choice and signed him to a reported six-figure contract.

Their judgement was confirmed Tuesday when Buchanan, 22, was named the National Football League's Defensive Rookie of the Year by The Associated Press.

Despite a season in which he started every game, tied for the club lead with four interceptions and made a big contribution to the Packers' vastly improved secondary, Buchanan says he ranked below two other Green Bay rookies—kicker Chester Marcol and quarterback Jerry Tagge—in publicity.

Knicks Beat Milwaukee; Blame 4th Quarter Foldup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Do the New York Knicks have the Milwaukee Bucks psyched?

No, insists Milwaukee Coach Larry Costello, who watched his club drop its 10th straight National Basketball Association game at Madison Square Garden Tuesday night 102-92.

Yes, says Jerry Lucas of the Knicks, who helped Bill Bradley pace a fourth quarter New York surge that produced the victory.

Elsewhere in the NBA Tuesday night, Cleveland ripped Phoenix 111-88, Buffalo rapped Philadelphia 114-110, Chicago downed Atlanta 100-90, Boston whipped Houston 130-110, Golden State defeated Los Angeles 112-106 and Portland took Kansas City-Omaha 104-87.

There were no games scheduled in the American Basketball Association.

Saturday night's basketball game between Circleville and Westfall will be played at the Circleville Junior High gym on Mill St. with the reserve game set for 6:30 p.m.

Southern Cal Tops Final Poll; OSU 9th

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Southern California's unbeaten Trojans capped a season-long stay in first place today when they were named college football's national champions for the third time in 11 years. The vote was unanimous.

Southern Cal, only undefeated team in the country, capped a 12-0 season and nailed down The Associated Press Trophy and with it the 1972 national crown Monday with a 42-17 rout of Ohio State in the Rose Bowl.

The Trojans received all 50 first-place votes and a perfect score of 1,000 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters in The AP poll as they officially dethroned Nebraska's 1970-71 champs, who were seeking an unprecedented third consecutive title.

Southern Cal, eighth in the preseason ratings, shot to the No. 1 spot following an opening 31-10 rout of Arkansas while top-ranked Nebraska was losing to UCLA 20-17. They were never headed as Colorado, Oklahoma and Alabama all took turns as the main challenger.

Oklahoma, unanimous runner-up to Nebraska last season, again finished second. The Sooners, who blanked Penn State 14-0 in the Sugar Bowl, were the second choice of 43 voters and received 872 points.

Texas, a come-from-behind 17-13 winner over Alabama in the Cotton Bowl, finished third with 667 points, barely edging defending champion Nebraska. The Cornhuskers demolished Notre Dame 40-6 in the Orange Bowl and wound up fourth in the rankings with 665 points.

Auburn's Cinderella Tigers, who weren't ranked in the preseason poll, climaxed a magnificent 10-1 season with a 24-3 trimming of Colorado in the Gator Bowl and finished No. 5 with 631 points.

Rounding out the Top Ten were Michigan, Alabama, Tennessee, Ohio State and Penn State. Michigan did not play in a postseason game while Tennessee outlasted Louisiana State 24-17 in the Bluebonnet Bowl.

LSU finished 11th, followed by North Carolina, Arizona State, Notre Dame, UCLA, Colorado, North Carolina State, Louisville, Washington State and Georgia Tech.

The preseason poll predicted that Nebraska would win the national championship, followed by Colorado, Ohio State, Arkansas, Penn State, Oklahoma, Alabama, Southern Cal, Washington and Michigan.

Phil Bengtson Fired, Hadl Put On Block

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The San Diego Chargers have begun sifting through the wreckage of their 1972 National Football League season, firing assistant coach Phil Bengtson only three days after he rejoined the team and placing veteran quarterback John Hadl on the trading block.

Bengtson, 59, a former Green Bay Packers head coach, joined the Chargers as defensive coach in 1971 and became the team's pro talent director this year before being appointed interim head coach of the New England Patriots with five games to play.

After leaving the Patriots at the end of the season as planned, he rejoined the Chargers Sunday. Team officials announced the firing without comment Tuesday.

The Chargers also announced the firing Tuesday of equipment manager Tom Denman, who had been with the team since its birth in 1960.

Meanwhile, Hadl, who led the NFL in yardage and touchdown passes in 1971 but slumped this season as the Chargers finished with a 4-9-1 record, confirmed a report that he is expected to be traded soon.

All County Teams In Cage Action

Westfall will be the only county school seeing double cage action this week as the Mustangs host Adena in a Scioto Valley clash Friday night and travel to Circleville for a Saturday night encounter with the Tigers. Teays Valley will be at home with Franklin Heights and Logan Elm will entertain Madison Plains in the other Friday night tilts.

The game between Westfall and Circleville will be held at the Circleville Junior High gym on Mill St. with the reserve contest getting underway at 6:30 p.m.

Westfall has been having trouble getting untracked this season and is 0-9 in the record book. The Mustangs have been getting some scoring punch from Marc Easterday and Mike Peterson with Joe Angles and Jay Clark starting to find the range in the last couple of games played by the Scarlet and Gray.

The Mustangs showed signs of putting it all together in the recent Holiday Tournament and if they can stay away from the turnovers could come up with a win at the expense of Adena. It will be their second meeting with the Tigers with Circleville taking the opening tilt 77-45.

Teays Valley is 5-1 in Metropolitan League play and will be out for its second win over the Falcons of Franklin Heights.

The vikings are 5-4 on the season and should put another victory in the book against the Falcons. Craig Pontius provides the Vikings with one of the top back court men in the area and Jim Logsdon and Jeff Anderson are producing some scoring punch and fine rebounding for the Blue and Gold. Foul trouble has hurt the Vikings in several games and they must keep their two big men, Logsdon and Anderson, on the floor instead of the bench if they are going to be successful.

Logan Elm is rapidly developing into one of the stronger teams in the area and the Braves are tough to beat on their own floor as Madison Plains will find out Friday night. The Braves will be going into the contest after winning the Holiday Tournament last week.

A good bench gives the Braves depth and balance and is one of the strong points of the club. Tom Sykes, Tim Justice and Steve Sargent give the Braves a fine outside shooting game with Stu Jones doing a good job inside. Mike Holbrook's quickness provides the Braves with steady floor play and defense. Sykes and Jones both go to the boards and furnish the rebounding work for Logan Elm.

In addition to having an offense that can put points on the board, the Braves utilize a tight defense which is a key factor in their success this year.

Deny Pont Railroaded By Indiana U

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Two Indiana University athletic officials have responded to criticism of their role in football Coach John Pont's quitting to become head coach at Northwestern.

Pont planned to leave Bloomington today for Evanston to begin organizing his new staff.

Donald Danielson, president of the Indiana University trustees, issued a public statement Tuesday criticizing Dr. Edwin H. Cady, faculty representative on the athletic committee, and Athletic Director Bill Orwig.

Cady and Orwig influenced the athletic committee when it tried to "steamroller" a five-year contract for Pont, Danielson said.

"There is no truth in that," Cady said in an interview with Bob Owens, sports editor of the Bloomington Courier-Tribune. "We had a meeting Nov. 17, a regularly called meeting scheduled in August. As a result of a vote in the meeting, where it was agreed that Bill Orwig should take a joint letter of information to the president (John Ryan), I did so and the letter was delivered on Monday, Nov. 20. I delivered it by hand to the president's office."

"As a matter of fact, the last time we renewed John Pont's contract, which was in January, 1968, that's the way it went—the director made a recommendation to the committee, which voted. The recommendation was carried to the president, who carried it to the trustees. All according to Hoyle."

Atlanta Flames Eye Spot In Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Would you believe the fledgling Atlanta Flames in the National Hockey League playoffs?

"It's too early to tell," said Coach Bernie "Boom Boom" Geoffrion following Tuesday night's 6-1 rout of the Flames' fellow expansionists, the New York Islanders.

Nevertheless, the victory lifted the Flames into a fourthplace tie with Philadelphia in the West Division ... and fourth is the last playoff berth.

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: After completing in a sensible manner whatever remaining duties face you, you are able to get some brilliant new ideas on how to proceed best in the days ahead. Discuss with bigwigs the assistance they will give you to make your life function more successfully. Plan trip if you wish one.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You find you can easily get the cooperation of bigwigs for the fine ideas you have in mind, so see them early. Participate in civic work you can do very well and make headway in this fashion, also. Avoid one who bickers.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make new contacts and get into new outlets that can cause your life to be more interesting and profitable in the future. Communicate with out-of-towners and secure the data you need. Take care you do not go off on tangents.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Make an alliance with one who can aid you in handling responsibilities in a more efficient and easy way. Mate wants you to be more open-minded to ways of advancing. Do just that. Avoid whatever has an element of danger in it.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You are now able to meet the associates who can give you the backing you need for important projects. Plan what must be done to improve your image with the public in general and do it. Stop laboring under unnecessary handicaps.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have new ideas that can help you work more successfully with co-workers, so both of you will get ahead faster. Plan how to improve the state of your health. Become a more effective, successful person.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get into that amusement you have in mind that will lift you out of the slough of despondency you find yourself in now. Take only congenials along with you. Make sure you drive with utmost care, though.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You know what it is that kin expect from you and can do your utmost to please them. Show you can be very practical where the financial side of life is concerned. Take the lead now.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Impart those new ideas to others who can cooperate with you for mutual success. Make the future much brighter, more constructive. Get the information you need so you can increase prosperity you now enjoy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have aspirations to become more successful and you have hit on the right formula today, so put it in action quickly. Follow your hunches which are working efficiently. Take it easy tonight.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can add much to prestige you now enjoy by gadding about socially in right circles, stating your aims to key persons. Get on the good side of experts, bigwigs. Avoid one who is antagonistic to your best interests.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Contacting those who have the facts you require to make your dreams materialize is wise now. Your intuitive faculties are working well, so follow their promptings. Get on the right track to reach your destination.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) It is wise now to make contacts that are helpful in your career, and to be active and enthusiastic. Social affairs can be most worthwhile in the evening. Avoid one who never fails to raise your ire.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be one of those unusual young people who thinks big and wants to become big, especially where public life is concerned. The ability to make a fine impression on the masses, the public in general is present in this chart. Slant the education along political, sales, entertainment lines, and give every opportunity for public speaking, acting, etc. Give good spiritual and humanitarian training early, also, otherwise your child could become a mere automaton.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Views On TV And Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — Those of us who stayed awake in civics class probably have a hazy idea of how a bill gets introduced in Congress and wends its way to total oblivion or the President's signature.

If the memory fails you, wait until Congress returns to work this year. Then find a National Public Radio outlet in your city and stay tuned for a refresher course.

NPR reporters are going to pick a bill of high interest to the public and follow it through to the bitter end. I don't know if this has been done before, but they deserve an A for ambition.

And what is NPR? It's a noncommercial radio network begun in May 1971, operated with tax funds given it by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting.

It's linked to 148 public radio stations serving 42 states, Puerto Rico and the District of Columbia. NPR and its 80-member staff is based in the nation's capitol.

All but 20 of the stations are on FM, the majority of those in college towns. The rest are municipally or listener-sponsored facilities.

So much for how it works. Now how is the NPR staff going to cover the travels of a proposed bill during the next session of Congress.

"We do a lot of broadcasting of congressional hearings as it is, and we thought that there's no reason why we couldn't start on one bill at the very beginning," says an NPR spokesman.

The spokesman, Cleve Mathews, says the agency will take "a fairly simple bill, rather than a really complex one, and we'll probably pick something like no-fault insurance."

He said the coverage will start when the bill — or different versions of it — are introduced in both the House and Senate.

Then NPR will follow it through subcommittee and committee hearings, broadcasting the proceedings live when congressmen permit, and present capsule reports at night.

The reports, with taped highlights of the hearings, will be broadcast in 15- or 20-minute chunks on NPR's nightly "All Things Considered" program, a 90-minute general news show heard on NPR outlets at 5 p.m. EST Mondays through Fridays.

"Hopefully, our listeners will become familiar with all aspects of the bill," Mathews says. "We think that, during this process, they'll get a good understanding of it from start to finish. 'We want to explain the process of Congress in what I think is an interesting way instead of a dull civics book way by actually reporting on a bill all the way through.'"

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: After completing in a sensible manner whatever remaining duties face you, you are able to get some brilliant new ideas on how to proceed best in the days ahead. Discuss with bigwigs the assistance they will give you to make your life function more successfully. Plan trip if you wish one.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You find you can easily get the cooperation of bigwigs for the fine ideas you have in mind, so see them early. Participate in civic work you can do very well and make headway in this fashion, also. Avoid one who bickers.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make new contacts and get into new outlets that can cause your life to be more interesting and profitable in the future. Communicate with out-of-towners and secure the data you need. Take care you do not go off on tangents.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Make an alliance with one who can aid you in handling responsibilities in a more efficient and easy way. Mate wants you to be more open-minded to ways of advancing. Do just that. Avoid whatever has an element of danger in it.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You are now able to meet the associates who can give you the backing you need for important projects. Plan what must be done to improve your image with the public in general and do it. Stop laboring under unnecessary handicaps.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have new ideas that can help you work more successfully with co-workers, so both of you will get ahead faster. Plan how to improve the state of your health. Become a more effective, successful person.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get into that amusement you have in mind that will lift you out of the slough of despondency you find yourself in now. Take only congenials along with you. Make sure you drive with utmost care, though.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You know what it is that kin expect from you and can do your utmost to please them. Show you can be very practical where the financial side of life is concerned. Take the lead now.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Impart those new ideas to others who can cooperate with you for mutual success. Make the future much brighter, more constructive. Get the information you need so you can increase prosperity you now enjoy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have aspirations to become more successful and you have hit on the right formula today, so put it in action quickly. Follow your hunches which are working efficiently. Take it easy tonight.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can add much to prestige you now enjoy by gadding about socially in right circles, stating your aims to key persons. Get on the good side of experts, bigwigs. Avoid one who is antagonistic to your best interests.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Contacting those who have the facts you require to make your dreams materialize is wise now. Your intuitive faculties are working well, so follow their promptings. Get on the right track to reach your destination.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) It is wise now to make contacts that are helpful in your career, and to be active and enthusiastic. Social affairs can be most worthwhile in the evening. Avoid one who never fails to raise your ire.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those unusual young people who thinks big and wants to become big, especially where public life is concerned. The ability to make a fine impression on the masses, the public in general is present in this chart. Slant the education along political, sales, entertainment lines, and give every opportunity for public speaking, acting, etc. Give good spiritual and humanitarian training early, also, otherwise your child could become a mere automaton.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Views On TV And Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — Those of us who stayed awake in civics class probably have a hazy idea of how a bill is introduced in Congress and wends its way to total oblivion or the President's signature.

If the memory fails you, wait until Congress returns to work this year. Then find a National Public Radio outlet in your city and stay tuned for a refresher course.

NPR reporters are going to pick a bill of high interest to the public and follow it through to the bitter end. I don't know if this has been done before, but they deserve an A for ambition.

And what is NPR? It's a noncommercial radio network begun in May 1971, operated with tax funds given it by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting.

It's linked to 148 public radio stations serving 42 states, Puerto Rico and the District of Columbia. NPR and its 80-member staff is based in the nation's capitol.

All but 20 of the stations are on FM, the majority of those in college towns. The rest are municipally or listener-sponsored facilities.

So much for how it works. Now how is the NPR staff going to cover the travels of a proposed bill during the next session of Congress.

"We do a lot of broadcasting of congressional hearings as it is, and we thought that there's no reason why we couldn't start on one bill at the very beginning," says an NPR spokesman.

The spokesman, Cleve Mathews, says the agency will take "a fairly simple bill, rather than a really complex one, and we'll probably pick something like no-fault insurance."

He said the coverage will start when the bill — or different versions of it — are introduced in both the House and Senate.

Then NPR will follow it through subcommittee and committee hearings, broadcasting the proceedings live when congressmen permit, and present capsule reports at night.

The reports, with taped highlights of the hearings, will be broadcast in 15- or 20-minute chunks on NPR's nightly "All Things Considered" program, a 90-minute general news show heard on NPR outlets at 5 p.m. EST Mondays through Fridays.

"Hopefully, our listeners will become familiar with all aspects of the bill," Mathews says. "We think that, during this process, they'll get a good understanding of it from start to finish. "We want to explain the process of Congress in what I think is an interesting way instead of a dull civics book way by actually reporting on a bill all the way through."

NBC Reporter Is Slated Speaker At Chamber Dinner

Speaker at the Jan. 24 Chamber of Commerce banquet will be NBC news correspondent Catherine Mackin, who is quickly gaining the public eye since her appearance at the Democratic National Convention.

At its meeting Tuesday, the Chamber of Commerce noted that tickets for the dinner were "about sold out" and that sales should be wrapped up by this weekend. This year, from 375 to 400 quests are expected to attend the banquet and hear Miss Mackin.

Chamber committees are organizing to prepare for the dinner meeting which is set for the fourth Wednesday in January.

Miss Mackin is the much admired NBC reporter who gained attention for her interviews with persons of importance in the Democratic party at its convention last summer.

The Chamber board welcomed two directors to their first meeting—Red Hartman of RCA and attorney Roger Bennington. Special guests at the meeting were County Commissioners Dick Tootle, Wayne Hines and Bob Liston.

Tootle gave an informal report on the commissioners' plans for county-wide planning this year, a program supported by the Chamber.

He reported that seminars are to be scheduled, working township by township, to lead Pickaway Countians in formation of a master plan of growth.

"We could hire a professional planner to write the plan," Tootle noted, "but it must be down here and by Pickaway Countians. We plan to budget money for this.

The commissioners and business and industrial people agree that there will be growth in this area, but are seeking orderly and proper growth to benefit the entire county.

Chamber of Commerce is now registering membership for 1973 and has placed the board's vice president, Dan Hindy, as chairman of the annual drive committee.

The lease agreement with the Pickaway County Historical Society for the building housing the Chamber offices was continued two years.

The board originally received a 10-year lease for their expense of refurbishing the exterior and interior of the former Second National Bank building. The Society offered the additional two-year lease for Chamber expenditures to repair the steps, railing and sidewalk to the office building.

Attending the meeting as Chamber office representative was Mrs. Elizabeth Hall, who has been attending the office business during Jean Ankrom's absence.

Nelson Stevens To Head Reorganized PRJVS Board

Pickaway-Ross Joint Vocational board members elected Nelson Stevens to his fourth year as board president.

Stevens was voted president when the vocational district first organized in May, 1970, and has remained the board executive officer since that time.

The PRJVS board also elected Paul W. Gearhart as vice president during its reorganization meeting Tuesday in Kingston. Gearhart assumes the office vacated by Gerald E. Radcliffe, a Chillicothe attorney recently elected to serve as Ross County Probate judge.

Temporary appropriations into the general fund for 1973 were set at $411,409.

Meetings will be the third Thursday of each month, 8 p.m. in the Kingston office.

Mrs. Mary McCorder was re-appointed as clerk-treasurer under a two-year contract.

Board vote set compensation for members at $20 per regular meeting attended plus 10 cents per mile to and from board meetings. This is the first time in three-year history of the board that members have been offered any compensation for their services to the school.

A $1,000 service fund was established to be used in paying the expenses of

Glass Crusade Sets Meetings

The "Bill Glass Crusade" will be held in Chillicothe June 24 through July 1.

There will be a number of preparatory meetings for ministers and lay representatives of the congregations in this area. The first meetings will be held at the Chillicothe YMCA Jan. 9 and 10 at 10 a.m., 2 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Each pastor or congregational lay person is to select one of the above times to attend the Pastor's or Lay Person's Involvement Seminar with the Rev. Clyde Dupin, the Bill Glass Crusade representative at the Chillicothe YMCA.

Date and time of planned attendance must be sent or phoned to Mrs. David Gunlock, Route 4, Chillicothe, 775-4937, by Jan. 8.

Jury Brings Indictments Against 8

Eleven indictments, four of which were secret, were brought Monday by the January term grand jury.

Jurors weighed evidence given by 11 persons before bringing the indictments against six men and two women. A charge of assault with a dangerous weapon was dismissed against William Climer.

Those indicted include: Patti O'Judge, assault with a dangerous weapon; Billy Eugene Queen, uttering and publishing forged checks (two counts); Russell Daniel Cummings Jr., two counts of burglary and grand larceny; Lee Edward Crum and Arthur Lee Davis, each charged with armed robbery.

In addition, the jurors surveyed the sheriff's office and offered their commendation to Radcliff and his staff for good work, cleanliness and overall conditions. They recommended additional sheriff deputies, more space and better ventilation in the department offices.

The jury also recommended air conditioning for the common pleas courtroom.

Three Hurt In Crash

Three people were hurt when Kelly L. Hinton, 75, Route 1, Laurelville, pulled his car into the path of a south-bound vehicle on Route 23 6:20 p.m. Tuesday.

According to Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies James Deal and J. Phillip Brown, Hinton pulled his car from the Circleville-Tarleton Rd. onto the southbound lane of Route 23 where it was struck by an auto driven by Laura Burgess, 23, Route 1, Piketon. Reports show that the Burgess car skidded 110 feet before striking the Hinton car in the right rear.

Hinton was treated at Berger Hospital's emergency room for a laceration on his right cheek and abrasions to his right forehead.

Miss Burgess was treated for head injuries and a bruised left leg. A passenger in her car Janet Brownfield, 18, Route 1, Piketon, had a fractured right ankle.

The deputies charged Hinton with failing to yield the right of way.
